PLAYER BIOS

Virginia Tech owns an illustrious tradition of registering big victories on the biggest stages. Whether it's the domination of an in-state rival, ACC championships, national exposure, a history of sending players to the NFL, fanatical fan support or an unprecedented track record of families sending multiple members to play in Blacksburg, Virginia Tech's winning tradition reaches far beyond the football field.

Lane Stadium provides Virginia Tech with a raucous homefield advantage, while the nearly $20 million Student-Athlete Performance Center serves the nutritional needs of Tech's student-athletes. An expanded and renovated weight room, new meeting rooms, an expansive indoor facility and a new residence hall, make Tech's facilities among the nation's finest.

Head coach Brent Pry enters his first season in that role for the Hokies. He leads a coaching staff that blends experience, history at Virginia Tech, along with fresh faces and ideas. Pry's staff also includes staffers with experience as either NFL players or coaches. They all share the common goal of preparing Tech's student-athletes for success in life and on the football field.

While Virginia Tech's coaching staff may be new, the Hokies return a solid corps of experienced performers in all three phases of the game. T Silas Dzansi will anchor the offensive line, while longtime defensive mainstays LB Dax Hollifield and DB Chamari Conner return on defense. P Peter Moore enjoyed a fabulous freshman campaign on special teams. Tech's group of returnees will be joined by several talented transfers, as well as the incoming freshman class.

UNIVERSITY/MEDIA

The Hokies began the 2021 season with a primetime takedown of No. 10 North Carolina as Lane Stadium erupted for a raucous postgame celebration. Tech's faithful also stormed the field in Charlottesville as the Hokies concluded the regular season campaign with a 29-24 Commonwealth Cup victory at Virginia.

Virginia Tech's history and football records are inextricably linked. A litany of NFL greats like Kam Chancellor, Carroll Dale, Eddie Royal (above), Brandon Flowers, Bruce Smith and Michael Vick firmly etched their names in Tech history during their memorable careers with the Hokies. In addition, a number of former Tech standouts have returned to Blacksburg to serve at their alma mater.

Few figures in college football history are as beloved as Frank Beamer who was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame's Class of 2018. His legacy transcended Blacksburg as he made a lasting impact on the way the game was played as the term "BeamerBall" became synonymous with excellence in all three phases of the game.

Virginia Tech continues to thrive under the leadership of President Tim Sands and Director of Athletics Whit Babcock. Plus, find complete information on how you can follow the Hokies on the radio this season. Bill Roth returns to the broadcast booth for Tech in 2022, while Tech Hall of Famer Mike Burnop provides color commentary for a 40th season.

WHAT IS A HOKIE?

That's a frequently asked question in Virginia Tech athletics, and the answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute. With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer, and a contest for that purpose was held by the student body. Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell which is still used today. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was used only as an attention-getter for his yell. It soon became a nickname for all Virginia Tech teams and those people loyal to Tech athletics. The official school colors—Chicago maroon and burnt orange—also were introduced in 1896. They were chosen because they made a "unique combination" not worn elsewhere at the time.

ESPN'S THURSDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

In the 1990s, head coach Frank Beamer embraced the opportunity for his program to own the national spotlight in primetime in the middle of the week on ESPN's Thursday Night Football. Since the inception of the Thursday Night Football package in 1991, the Hokies are 23-10 (.697) in such games. Those 33 Thursday night appearances are the most of any FBS program.

COLLEGE GAMEDAY + VIRGINIA TECH

ESPN's College GameDay has had no greater connection to a university than Virginia Tech. Former Tech head coach Frank Beamer was an early supporter of the production and the Hokie Nation helped elevate the show to new heights as thousands would show up and make noise during the broadcast. Among the top moments between College GameDay and Virginia Tech include the show's two visits to Blacksburg in 1999 and its broadcast ahead of the first game in Lane Stadium following the April 16 tragedy between the Hokies and East Carolina on Sept. 1, 2007. The weekly traveling road show has been on site for 11 Virginia Tech games since 1999 and has visited Blacksburg six times.

1. Lee Corso unveiled the HokieBird headgear in both of GameDay's visits to Blacksburg in 1999.

2. College GameDay served as part of the healing process at Virginia Tech following the 2007 tragedy on campus, visiting Blacksburg for the 2007 opener vs. East Carolina.

3. Tech legend Bruce Smith joined the GameDay gang during the show's return to campus in 2017.

4. NASCAR legend "The King" Richard Petty joined Dr. Jerry Punch and Lee Corso on the GameDay set at the Battle of Bristol.

TECH TRADITIONS

NOTHING defines
Lane Stadium more than the playing of “Enter Sandman” as the team runs out of the tunnel before kickoff.

For the past 22 years, Tech fans have become part of the stadium's “Enter Sandman” culture. Virginia Tech has played the introduction of the Metallica classic as the team has emerged out of the tunnel and onto Worsham Field since 2000.

HOKIE STONE

Before each home football game, Tech's players and coaching staff enter Lane Stadium through the tunnel to Worsham Field. As they pass beneath a Hokie Stone they touch for good luck, they see these words: “For those who have passed. For those to come ... Reach for Excellence.”

KEY PLAY

For many years, whether it's on the road or at Lane Stadium, Hokie Nation has helped the Tech defense by making noise with their keys. A “key play” most frequently occurs on a third down, fourth down or the final play of the game.

HOKIE VILLAGE

Located on the Moseley Practice Field, across Beamer Way from Lane Stadium, Hokie Village opens up 3.5 hours before kickoff, is free for all, and begins Tech's gameday experience.

HOKIE WALK

Established in 2001, when the football team arrives on campus about 2.5 hours before kickoff, the Hokies take the short walk up Beamer Way sandwiched on either side by the Tech faithful.

MARCHING VIRGINIANS

Known as "The Spirit of Tech" and established in 1974, the Marching Virginians draw from the general student body and perform at halftime of every home football game.

THE HIGHTY-TIGHTIES

A Regimental Band, the Mighty-Tighties are Tech's longest-serving musical organization and the oldest college band in the Commonwealth and is a company in the third battalion of the Virginia Tech Corps of Cadets.

SKIPPER

In 1963, three Virginia Tech students and Corps of Cadets members built a cannon and it made its debut against VMI in the two schools' annual Thanksgiving Day game. The students named the cannon "Skipper" after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated on November 22, 1963. Ever since, Skipper fires outside of Lane Stadium at the opening of Hokie Village, after the national anthem and whenever the Hokies score.

HOKIE POKEY

The spirit teams and the Marching Virginians' tuba section lead the Lane Stadium crowd in Blacksburg's rendition of the Hokie Pokey.

This is HOME

Blacksburg
and The New River Valley
are one of the nation's best places to call home. The town of Blacksburg ranks annually as one of the best small towns in the nation for quality of life.

Known as the Star City, nearby Roanoke provides an eclectic mix of shopping, dining and cultural experiences for residents and visitors.

The 150,000-square-foot P. Buckley Moss Center for the Arts, which includes a 1,260-seat performance hall, is a cultural asset for the region.

Southwest Virginia is a hotbed of activity for hikers, bikers and nature lovers along the Appalachian Trail and the New River Valley.

One of the most beautiful waterfalls in Virginia, Cascade Falls in nearby Giles County attracts approximately 150,000 visitors each year.

EDMUND BROTHERS MAKE NFL HISTORY

Tremaine (left) and Terrell Edmunds (center) made history in the 2018 NFL Draft by becoming the only pair of brothers to ever be selected in the first round of the same NFL Draft. Tremaine was the 16th overall selection by Buffalo, while Terrell was the 28th overall pick by Pittsburgh. Eldest brother, Trey (right), is a running back for the Pittsburgh Steelers. All three brothers met on the same field at Pittsburgh (12/15/19). It marked the first time three brothers played in the same NFL game since the 1927 Duluth Eskimos had Joe, Cobb & Bill Rooney. Photo courtesy - Karl Roser (Pittsburgh Steelers).

THE FABULOUS FULLERS

Vincent, Corey, Kyle and Kendall Fuller represent one of the most notable families in both Virginia Tech and National Football League history. The Fuller brothers are the only four siblings in NFL annals to all attend the same university and to all be selected in the NFL Draft. In April 2022, the Baltimore natives built on their legacy at their alma mater by making a significantly generous financial pledge to the Virginia Tech Football program.

In honor of their significant pledge to Virginia Tech Football, the cornerbacks' meeting room will now be named "The Fuller Room." This space is used daily by coaches and student-athletes alike, and is located in the Merryman Athletic Center.

BEAMER-LAWSON PRACTICE FACILITY

The Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility fits in perfectly with the other buildings on the university's sprawling campus—from its color to its design features to its architectural touches. The facility was built by Hokies, for Hokies and paid for by Hokies.

The facility, built by W.M. Jordan Company—a company whose CEO is John Lawson, a 1975 graduate of Tech—cost $21.3 million and was finished in the summer of 2015. It possesses all the features befitting of a nationally recognized football program, while also being flexible enough to help certain Olympic sports.

In 2018, the facility was named the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility in honor of Lawson and former Virginia Tech student-athlete and head coach Frank Beamer.

Tech's facility is 210 feet wide and 400 feet long, with an artificial surface installed by Shaw Sports Turf. The synthetic turf is fast, firm and dense. The height from the playing surface to the bottom of the steel ceiling trusses is more than 86 feet at its apex, thus allowing plenty of room for punting and kicking. Its' eight-foot padded walls, wide sidelines, full scoreboard and 40-second clocks on each end allow the football program to hold a full-contact scrimmage.

In addition, the facility features garage-type doors, which open quickly and allow the players to move rapidly from the outdoor practice field into the indoor facility in the event of inclement weather. Tech's staff, though, uses the facility more than just when the weather turns ugly.

The facility also features a video platform that runs the entire length of the field. Three doors at separate locations lead out to observation decks to allow the video staff to film the portions of practice being held outdoors.

W.M. Jordan handled most of the construction responsibilities for the facility, but HKS Architects designed the facility, and the architectural and design features of the building definitely give it a Virginia Tech feel. It possesses maroon trim and Hokie stone on the bases of each support column. The archway entrance resembles that at Lane Stadium.

Plus, the university's core values—brotherhood, honor, leadership, sacrifice, service, loyalty, duty and Ut Prosim—have been etched along the bases of the columns. Architects borrowed this feature from the pylons above War Memorial Chapel along Tech's Drillfield.

MERRYMAN CENTER

In 2016, work began in earnest on creating a dramatic entrance to the Merryman Center, which is typically one of the first spots that recruits and their families visit at Virginia Tech. From expansive video displays, to an opening of the Legends Hall area that now provides a panoramic view of Lane Stadium, the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility and Practice Fields, a welcoming aura can be felt in this area, right down to the floor's tile which pays homage to Tech's trademark Hokie Stone.

In September 2017, the team unveiled its new team meeting room that was made possible by the generosity of Virginia Tech Football alum Steve Johnson. The renovated version includes new seating, lighting, graphics on the walls and new sound system.

During the 2020 season, the team began utilizing nine new position meeting rooms which were also formally unveiled in March 2021. These individual meeting rooms feature a fully-integrated audio/visual system that allows various groups to watch presentations from the existing team meeting room was a generous gift from Tech Football alum and opened in September 2017. That connectivity proved vital for the Hokies in 2020 as social distancing mandated that 100-plus individuals that would normally fill the team meeting room could be spread into 10 different locations.

The nine position meeting rooms feature the same oversized seating as the team meeting room, with plaques honoring Tech's past all-conference performers for that unit adorning each group's space. In addition, hero-sized graphics of some of the Hokies' greatest all-time performers at that position complete the imagery of each meeting room.

STEVE JOHNSON STRENGTH & CONDITIONING CENTER PEACH BOWL PLAZA

In March 2021, Virginia Tech Athletics unveiled a refurbished plaza area outside of Tech's football strength and conditioning facility that honors the 1986 Peach Bowl squad, the team that claimed the first bowl win in school history. In addition to the permanent recognition of the 1986 Peach Bowl team, the renovated football weight room was also made possible thanks to the generosity of Steve Johnson and now bears his name. Signage recognizing the 1986 Peach Bowl champions and Johnson has also been added to the main entrance of the facility. Johnson caught a team-high six passes in that memorable 1986 bowl victory.

TECH FOOTBALL STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING FACILITY, OUTDOOR PLAZA HONORS 1986 PEACH BOWL TEAM

The project transformed the strength and conditioning center into a dynamic training area to meet the current and future needs of the program. This $4.5 million renovation and expansion project nearly doubled the functional workout space of the facility located in the Merryman Center, increasing the total square footage from approximately 6,900 square feet to over 12,300 square feet.

The reimaged design of the strength and conditioning area takes better advantage of every inch of this expanded space. A custom-designed 24-rack system by Sorinex highlights the strength and conditioning center, which is filled with natural light from floor-to-ceiling glass that offers a panoramic view of the Steve Johnson Practice Fields and the Beamer-Lawson Practice Facility. A unique and expansive folding glass door allows direct access to the outdoor training area and practice fields for large groups of student-athletes. In addition, a built-in artificial turf surface (complete with hashmarks) provides a perfect area for agility training.

The relocation of the strength and conditioning offices presented an opportunity to create a smartly conceived refueling station operated by the Tech sports nutrition staff, marking another much-needed addition to the football training area. With plenty of space for a team of dieticians and sports nutrition staffers to prepare custom recovery shakes and healthy snacks, this area also features multiple refrigeration units for storage, as well as easy-access fridges for student-athletes to grab food to go. Another custom cooler is constantly filled with various recovery beverages and plenty of bottled water.

A former Tech football player who played from 1983-87, Johnson currently serves as president and owner of Bristol-based Johnson Commercial Development, one of the largest commercial developers in the Southeast. Johnson Commercial Development completed one of the largest commercial projects in the country, The Pinnacle, a one million-square-foot upscale retail development in Bristol, Tennessee.

PETRINE PLAZA

Longtime Virginia Tech Athletics and Hokie Club benefactors Jim and Debbie Petrine have made another substantial gift to Tech to help recognize all of the families who have sent multiple members to play football for the Hokies.

Plaques recognizing that football is family at Virginia Tech have been installed on the Petrine Plaza located outside of the football strength and conditioning complex. The 33 families who have sent multiple siblings to play football for the Hokies have plaques installed, as well as the 26 fathers who have had one or more sons follow their football path to Blacksburg. In addition, several uncle-nephew relationships are commemorated with plaques on the Petrine Plaza.

"We have both enjoyed watching so many of these families proudly represent Virginia Tech over the years," the Petrines said. "While many of these families are household names among Hokie Nation, we wanted to find a way to permanently recognize all of the football family relationships that have been so prevalent within the program. We couldn't be more pleased with the look and feel of the project. We hope that all of these families can come to Petrine Plaza and share many great memories of their time playing at Virginia Tech. And of course, we look forward to many more young men following in the footsteps of their fathers, brothers and uncles in the years to come. Go Hokies!"

Petrine Plaza documents the legacy of family members following their relatives to play football at Tech dating back to the late 1950s when Joe Moss lettered for the Hokies. He would send sons Andrew and Billy to play in Blacksburg in the 1990s. During the 1960s, Tech lettermen Ken Barefoot, Frank Beamer, Ken Edwards, Scott Hawkins and Lenny Smith all played in Lane Stadium and would later watch one or more of their sons do the same.

More recently, a pair of Tech football families have made their alma mater proud by achieving several notable firsts. The Fuller brothers—Vinnie, Kyle, Corey and Kendall—became the first four siblings to all play for the same university and all be selected in the NFL Draft. In 2018, Tremaine and Terrell Edmunds also made history, becoming the first pair of brothers to be picked in the first round of the same NFL Draft. Their path to Blacksburg was paved by eldest brother, Trey, who like his younger siblings, is also on an NFL roster heading into the 2021 season.

The family tradition of brothers following brothers to Blacksburg is also alive and well on Tech's 2021 roster under the direction of head coach Justin Fuente. Current TE Nick Gallo is the younger brother of Eric, who lettered from 2014-17, while DB Jalen Stroman is the younger sibling of current Washington NFL DB Greg Stroman (2014-17 letterman).

In addition, two sets of brothers are presently on Tech's roster. Junior LB Dax Hollifield paved the way for freshman TE Jack Hollifield to join the Hokies. Meanwhile, twin brothers Jayden and Jorden McDonald are on campus preparing for their second season at Virginia Tech.

VT FOOTBALL IS FAMILY

The Virginia Tech football program prides itself on the family atmosphere it instills. That atmosphere hasn't gone unnoticed as many sets of sons and brothers of former Hokies have followed in the footsteps of their fathers and older brothers and decided to play in Blacksburg. Since 1987, Tech has seen 34 sets of brothers and 26 fathers and their sons compete for the Hokies. Below is a comprehensive list of those families who have sent multiple relatives to Tech, with current Hokies in bold.

STUDENT-ATHLETE PERFORMANCE CENTER

The nearly $20 million Student-Athlete Performance Center replaced the old Bowman Room on the fourth floor of the Jamerson Athletics Center and serves as the primary space for the sports nutrition staff to meet the nutrition needs of student-athletes from all 22 of Virginia Tech's varsity sports.

With more than 25,000 square feet of space, the SAPC provides constant nutrition for Tech student-athletes and wonderful event space for other activities. The renovation project came about primarily as a result of the generosity of an alumni couple who made an anonymous $15.2 million gift—the largest gift ever to Virginia Tech Athletics.

The SAPC includes a full-service kitchen that allows for the preparation of meals for student-athletes and a large dining space for them that features panoramic views of Lane Stadium and the Beamer-Lawson Practice Facility. A balcony on the outer edge of the center overlooks the Steve Johnson Practice Fields.

"Between school, study hall, training, practice or lifting and meals, to have a facility like this that's located right in the middle of all of those things I think only enhances the efficiency of their day," head coach Justin Fuente said of the impact that the SAPC makes on his student-athletes. "Obviously, for our program, development is a huge part of what we're trying to do, and what you feed your body is a huge part of our players and their development."

The center also allows for donor hospitality events before games, particularly basketball games. A large hallway leads directly from the center to the concourse of Cassell Coliseum. In addition, Tech's coaches expect to use the center for recruiting events, team gatherings, and other student-athlete development events.

COMPLETED IN SUMMER

- ◆ 234,000 Gross Feet<sup>2</sup>
- 596 Beds

- ◆ Features:
- Performing Arts Spaces
- Maker's Space
- Living Learning Lounge
- Faculty Apartment

The new residence hall in the Creativity and Innovation District is home to 176 Virginia Tech student-athletes with an interest in interdisciplinary creation and entrepreneurship. The $105.5 million facility is located next to the Graduate Life Center at Donaldson

Brown between Kent and Otey streets. Boasting approximately 234,000 gross square feet of space, this new development features a wide variety of academic, social, research, and collaboration spaces, in addition to living space for a total of 596 Tech students.

SANGHANI PLAYER LOUNGE

The Veatch Player Lounge was originally built thanks to the generosity of Virginia Tech alum Jeff Veatch and his family. The facility got a fresh look in 2021 thanks to a substantial contribution of fellow Tech graduate and longtime donor, Mehul Sanghani.

Virginia Tech head coach Justin Fuente envisioned Dave & Buster's when asked about plans for Tech's renovated player's lounge, located one floor above the locker room. Whether it's a place to play video games, watch TV or just hang out, the Hokies now have a perfect spot.

Jack Porter, a South Carolina-based consulting agency, handled the design on this latest renovation in Blacksburg. The entrance to the lounge will replicate the gameday feel of walking through the Avery Tunnel and into Lane Stadium with sensors set to play Metallica's 'Enter Sandman,' as individuals enter the lounge, which will feature pool tables, ping pong, a refreshment station, as well as a theatre room.

THE AVERY TUNNEL

Virginia Tech boasts one of the most unique pregame entrances in all of college football. Part of that pregame pageantry involves the walk from the Beamer Locker Room to and through the Avery Tunnel before the team emerges onto to Worsham Field and into Lane Stadium to the blaring sounds of 'Enter Sandman.'

Lane Stadium, a place unlike any other on a college football Saturday night ... The locker room is a short walk from Lane Stadium. They march in three or four wide into a narrow, sloping tunnel—freshly painted for tonight by the way. They'll make a left turn ... At the bottom, they'll be asked to reach higher for all those who have passed before and those to come. Then they will touch the Hokie Stone. It's the same limestone used to build this campus. Even the Tech veterans, who have done this dozens of times, they tell us they still get goosebumps. At the bottom of the tunnel, the song that Metallica recorded long before these players were born, 'Enter Sandman,' has played the Hokies on each home game since 2000. On nights like this, the Earth will shake, literally. They have the seismograph to prove it ... It is the rockindest entrance in college football.

ESPN's Chris Fowler

In 2020, Tech installed plaques in the tunnel honoring all of the team's letterwinners dating back to the 1932 season.

All Hokies are exhorted to Reach For Excellence prior to exiting the tunnel.

NOTABLE ALUMS OF VT

HERBERT J. THOMAS, JR.

(Class of 1944)

Thomas, a former football player, received the Medal of Honor for action on Bougainville Island in the South Pacific during World War II. During a battle, Thomas threw a grenade, but the jungle vines dropped it back among his men. Thomas jumped on the grenade, giving his life to save the lives of his men.

CHRISTOPHER KRAFT

(Class of 1944)

The late Kraft, a former baseball player, was a retired NASA engineer who established the agency's "Mission Control" operation. He served as the agency's first flight director and oversaw the first human spaceflight, orbital flight and spacewalk. The Mission Control Center at the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center in Houston is named after Kraft, who graduated from Tech with a degree in aeronautical engineering.

ROBERT RICHARDSON

(Class of 1958 and 1960)

Richardson brought international notoriety to Virginia Tech when he shared the 1996 Nobel Prize in Physics with two others for their 1972 discovery of the property of superfluidity in helium-3 atoms. He received both his undergraduate and master's degrees in physics from Virginia Tech and spent nearly his entire career as a professor and physics researcher at Cornell.

IRVING PEDDREW

(Class of 2016)

Peddrew was the first African-American student to attend Virginia Tech and the first to attend any historically all-white four-year public institution in the 11 former states of the Confederacy when he enrolled in 1953. Peddrew studied at Tech for three years before moving to California to join the workforce. In 2016, the university presented him with an honorary Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering.

CHARLIE YATES

(Class of 1958)

Yates was the first African-American graduate of Virginia Tech, receiving his degree in mechanical engineering in 1958. He later became a college professor and twice returned to Virginia Tech to work. The final time was in 1987 when he served as an associate professor in the aerospace and engineering department. He remained at Tech until his retirement in 2000. In 2010, he passed away after a long bout with leukemia.

HOMER HICKAM

(Class of 1964)

As a Corps of Cadets member, Hickam designed Skipper, the iconic cannon Virginia Tech fires during football games when it scores and also at other functions. After graduating with a degree in industrial engineering, Hickam served in the military during the Vietnam War, and after he returned, he worked for NASA. But he is best known as an author, with his memoir "Rocket Boys," becoming a New York Times best seller. The 1999 movie entitled "October Sky" was based off Hickam's book.

UT PROSIM LIVES HERE

Dating back to Frank Beamer's days as head coach, the Hokies have firmly embraced Virginia Tech's motto of Ut Prosim (That I May Serve). Tech has continued that tradition under head coach Brent Pry. The team frequently takes the opportunity to serve others, whether it means visiting local schools in Southwest Virginia, or spreading goodwill during the holidays or during bowl trips.

Tyrod Taylor rewarded Blacksburg elementary students with shoes & swag in 2019.

The Hokies displayed their vocal talents with a stirring rendition of "Let it Go" at Levine Children's Hospital.

Malachi Thomas and the running backs made new friends at Christiansburg Primary School.

The Hokies packed 1,500 after-school food packages for kids at Second Harvest Food Bank in Charlotte prior to the 2019 Belk Bowl.

Caleb Farley befriended a veteran in Pulaski, Virginia and thanks to Kroger, delivered a holiday turkey to his vehicle.

S Reggie Floyd stops to take a selfie with a fan following the 2019 Spring Game.

The Hokies visited Pulaski, Virginia in December 2018 to help brighten the holidays for some of our neighbors in need.

The entire squad packed care packages for our troops in conjunction with the USO during Tech's trip to the 2018 Military Bowl.

Tremaine Edmunds was part of Tech's contingent that visited Levine Children's Hospital in Charlotte during the week of the 2016 Belk Bowl.

Brion Murray and his fellow cornerbacks enjoyed reading to students at Margaret Beeks Elementary in Blacksburg.

Dax Hollifield and Tech's linebackers volunteered at Micah's Backpack, helping load supplies in the spring of 2022.

BRENT PRY

HEAD COACH

 @CoachPryVT  coach_pry

Director of Athletics Whit Babcock, Virginia Tech head coach Brent Pry and President Tim Sands.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Brent Pry was officially named Virginia Tech head coach on November 30, 2021. He joined the Hokies after serving the past eight seasons as defensive coordinator/linebackers coach at Penn State.
- Pry returns to Blacksburg after working as a defensive graduate assistant for the Hokies from 1995-97 under head coach Frank Beamer and defensive coordinator Bud Foster.
- A 30-year coaching veteran, Pry has coached teams that have qualified for 15 bowl appearances and have finished in the FBS top 25 in total defense eight times.
- He has played an instrumental role in coaching top 10 defenses at Virginia Tech, Penn State, Vanderbilt, Georgia Southern, and Western Carolina.
- Since his promotion to defensive coordinator in 2016, the Nittany Lions have posted three seasons with 11 wins and four seasons with nine or more victories. He helped the Nittany Lions to the 2016 Big Ten Championship after defeating No. 6 Wisconsin in that conference's championship game.
- His longtime association with current Penn State head coach James Franklin dates back to 1993-94 when Franklin was the quarterback for East Stroudsburg University, where Pry coached outside linebackers and defensive backs.
- Pry was a 2021 Broyles Award nominee for the top assistant coach in the country as the Nittany Lions ranked fourth nationally in Red Zone defense (66.7%), seventh in scoring defense (16.8 ppg), eighth in defensive pass efficiency (111.98), and held their opponents to 4.7 yards per play.
- Under Pry's direction in 2020, Penn State ranked third in the Big Ten total defense (328.8 ypg), good for 17th nationally, second in pass defense (198.6 ypg), second in TFL (6.7 per game) and fourth in rush defense (130.2 ypg).
- Pry's defense helped lead Penn State to an 11-2 record in 2019, ranking eighth nationally in scoring defense (16.0 ppg). The Nittany Lions also led the nation in fewest yards per carry (2.6) and forced fumbles (22), while ranking fifth in rushing defense (95.0 ypg) in 2019.
- The Penn State defense led the nation in sacks per game (3.62) and ranked fourth in tackles for loss (8.2) in 2018. His 2018 squad also ranked fifth in the county in yards per pass attempt (5.67), eighth in defensive pass efficiency (106.1) and 11th in Red Zone scoring percentage (.750).

- Penn State also registered an 11-2 record in 2017 with Pry earning his first Broyles Award nomination. The Nittany Lions finished seventh in FBS in both scoring defense (16.5 ppg) and sacks per game (3.23) during the 2017 campaign.
- After taking sole reins as Penn State's defensive coordinator post in 2016, the team posted an 11-3 mark and finished seventh in the nation, averaging 8.1 TFL per game.
- As co-defensive coordinator for Penn State in 2014, Pry helped direct a unit that finished second in FBS in total defense (278.7 ypg).
- Pry served as co-defensive coordinator at Vanderbilt from 2011-13 prior to his arrival in State College, Pennsylvania.
- While at Georgia Southern in 2010, his defensive unit helped the Eagles to a win over No. 1 Appalachian State and an appearance in the NCAA FCS semifinals.
- A member of the Memphis staff from 2007-09, Pry's defensive line corps helped the Tigers to back-to-back bowl appearances.
- He also coached at Louisiana-Lafayette (2002-06), helping the Ragin' Cajuns to their first Sun Belt Conference championship following a four-year stint at Western Carolina (1998-01).
- During his stint as a graduate assistant at Tech from 1995-97, he was part of a staff that guided the Hokies to three bowl berths.
- Pry lettered as a defensive back at the University of Buffalo before suffering a career-ending injury. He began his coaching career as an undergraduate student in 1992. He graduated with a degree in history from Buffalo in 1993.
- Pry's father, Jim, played collegiately at Marshall and began his own 40-year college coaching career at his alma mater in 1973-74. The elder Pry went on to enjoy a distinguished career that included stints at Illinois, Duke, Dartmouth, Akron, East Stroudsburg University, Buffalo, VMI, and Bethune-Cookman, as well as time as a high school head coach.
- Pry and his wife, Amy, are the parents of a son, Colby and two daughters: Madeline and Catherine.

Bud Foster, Pry, Frank Beamer and J.C. Price

"Virginia Tech is getting a great coach and a wonderful fit for our football program in Brent Pry. Not only is Brent exceptionally intelligent, he also possesses a great deal of football knowledge. Growing up as the son of a coach, he's been around the game all of his life. I'm confident that he'll do a tremendous job as head coach of the Hokies."

College Football Hall of Fame inductee Frank Beamer

"It's been such a pleasure to watch Brent grow, mature and excel at a very high level in the coaching profession. I'm so excited that he's earned this opportunity to lead our football program. The best coaches are the ones who are always striving to get better, who are open to new ideas and who can put their players in the best position to be successful. Brent embodies all of those qualities and so many others that it takes to be a leader. I'm so excited that he's coming back to Virginia Tech."

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Price joined Marshall after an eight-season stint at James Madison University (2004-11). The Dukes won the 2004 FCS National Championship and made the FCS Playoffs on four other occasions during his tenure.
  - Among notable star pupils at JMU, Price coached DE Arthur Moats who won the Buck Buchanan Award in 2009 as the nation's top FCS defensive player before enjoyed a successful eight-year NFL career.
  - Thanks to Price's defensive line, JMU led the nation in sacks twice (2004, 2006) and finished in the top three 10 times. The Dukes' 57.0 sacks in 2004 were a single-season FCS record. JMU produced an FCS-best 47.0 sacks in 2006.
  - During his tenure as a graduate assistant at Tech (2002-03), Price worked hands on with future NFL performers such as DE Daryl Tapp and DT Jonathan Lewis.
  - Price is married to the former Jenny Root, who was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 2007. A standout for the women's basketball program, her 1,582 career points still rank as the fifth-highest total in Hokies' history.
- ### PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS
- A third-round pick of the Carolina Panthers in the 1996 NFL Draft.
  - Spent time with the Arizona Cardinals in 1996-97 where his defensive line coach was Pro Football Hall of Famer Joe Greene before a back injury curtailed his playing career.
  - A four-year starter who captained Tech's 1995 BIG EAST championship team. After beginning that 1995 season with an 0-2 record, the Hokies rattled off 10 straight wins culminating with a 28-10 win vs. Texas in the Sugar Bowl.
  - Earned third-team All-America honors from AP following the 1995 season, as well as first-team All-BIG EAST honors after recording 104 tackles and a team-high 15.0 TFL, as well as 8.0 sacks.
  - In Price's final three seasons, Tech went 27-9 with two bowl wins.
  - Played in 41 career games for the Hokies, finishing his career with 256 tackles (125 solo), 30.0 TFL and 17.0 sacks (-118.0 yards).
  - A second-team All-Metro selection by the Washington Post as a senior at Northern High School. Was named the Calvert County's most outstanding athlete and was the conference player of the year.
  - Also played center on his prep basketball squad that was the state runner-up.

TYLER BOWEN

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/ TIGHT ENDS COACH

 @TylerBowen  coachtbow

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia Tech Football head coach Brent Pry announced Jan. 10 that Tyler Bowen has joined his coaching staff as offensive coordinator/tight ends coach.
- A 12-year coaching veteran, Bowen most recently served as the tight ends coach for the Jacksonville Jaguars during the 2021 season.
- Bowen previously worked with Pry at Penn State, serving as Penn State's co-offensive coordinator/offensive recruiting coordinator/tight ends coach during the 2020 season. He coached tight ends and handled the offensive recruiting coordinator duties for the Nittany Lions from 2018-19.
- During his time in State College, he mentored 2021 NFL second-round pick TE Pat Freiermuth, who earned an All-Big Ten honorable mention honors after hauling in eight touchdowns in 2020, the second-most of any tight end in the FBS that season.
- Bowen helped lead Penn State to a 53-39 victory over Memphis in the 2019 Goodyear Cotton Bowl, his first game after taking over play-calling duties. Those 53 points marked Nittany Lions' bowl record, while their five rushing TDs tied a Cotton Bowl record and their 396 rushing yards ranked as the second-highest total in the Cotton Bowl's illustrious history.
- Prior to his tenure at Penn State, Bowen served as the offensive line coach at his alma mater of Maryland during the 2017 season. The Terrapins began that season with a 51-41 upset win at No. 23 Texas that featured 263 rushing yards and four ground scores. Maryland also opened its 2017 Big Ten schedule with a 31-24 victory at Minnesota that featured 262 rushing yards and a pair of TDs. One of his offensive line pupils, T Derwin Gray, was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers.
- The Helena, Georgia native spent two years at Fordham, serving as offensive coordinator/offensive line coach in 2016 after joining the Rams as offensive line coach in 2015. Under his direction in 2016, the Rams' offense led the Patriot League and finished fourth in the FCS in both scoring offense (40.1 ppg) and total offense (498.2 ypg). He tutored 2018 NFL fourth-round pick RB Chase Edmonds, who led the FCS in rushing (163.5 ypg) and finished fourth in the Walter Payton Award voting, which is given each year to the FCS' most outstanding offensive player.
- Two Fordham offensive players earned All-America accolades under Bowen's tutelage as Edmonds earned the honor in both 2015 and 2016 and G Garrick Mayweather, Jr. received those honors in 2015.
- Thanks to Bowen's offensive line, Fordham finished second in the FCS in passing efficiency (168.3) and ninth in scoring (36.8 ppg) in 2015.
- Prior to his time at Fordham, Bowen worked as an offensive graduate assistant for Penn State in Pry's first season with the Nittany Lions in 2014.
- He previously served as the tight ends coach at Towson in 2013 where he helped the Tigers advance to the FCS Championship Game and a No. 2 national ranking.
- Bowen began his collegiate coaching career as a student assistant with Maryland in 2010 before serving as a graduate assistant with the Terrapins from 2011-12. He worked with the offensive line and wide receivers while in College Park and helped the team register a 55-10 victory over East Carolina in the 2010 Military Bowl.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- A four-time All-SEC linebacker during his playing career at Vanderbilt, Marve is one of the most decorated players in Commodores' history. His 397 career tackles rank ninth in school history, while his 30.0 TFL are tied for sixth. He was a Freshman All-America selection in 2008 after registering 105 tackles and four forced fumbles. He concluded that season with 10 tackles in a 16-14 Music City Bowl victory over Boston College.
- As a sophomore, Marve produced a career-high 121 total tackles, including a career-best 57 solo stops, and averaged 10.1 tackles per game in conference play. His performance earned him second-team All-SEC recognition.
- He was named co-captain as a junior and again earned All-SEC honors after recording 80 tackles, including 8.0 for loss.
- He was selected a captain again his senior season and led Vanderbilt back to postseason play with Coach Pry serving as co-defensive coordinator/linebackers coach for the Commodores. In addition to earning All-SEC honors after leading Vanderbilt with 91 total tackles, he also earned a spot on the SEC Academic Honor Roll and helped the squad receive a berth in the Liberty Bowl.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia Tech Football head coach Brent Pry announced on December 7, 2021 that Chris Marve has joined his coaching staff as defensive coordinator/linebackers coach.
- Marve comes to Virginia Tech after serving as defensive run game coordinator/linebackers coach at Florida State for the past two seasons. Marve helped the Seminoles make dramatic strides in their run defense in 2021. Florida State allowed 147.6 rushing ypg game this past season, a 51.6 ypg improvement compared to the 2020 campaign.
- Under Marve's tutelage, LB Kalen DeLoach finished the 2021 regular season third on the team with 69 total tackles (38 solo), to go along with 6.5 TFL, 1.0 sack, an INT and three QB hurries. Meanwhile, redshirt freshman LB DJ Lundy ranked fourth on the squad with 68 total tackles (32 solo), while adding 1.0 sack, 5.0 TFL and a fumble recovery.
- In 2020, Marve helped the Seminoles linebacker corps flourish as the group combined for 218 total tackles, including 17.5 TFL. The team's top three tacklers were all coached by Marve. LB Amari Gainer led the team with 65 total tackles (26 solo), while LB Emmett Rice (62 total tackles) and Stephen Dix (45 total tackles) ranked right behind him. Rice's 7.5 TFL led the team and he recorded Florida State's first safety since 2017. Dix earned Rivals Freshman All-American status to become FSU's second freshman All-American linebacker and the school's first since 1978.
- Prior to his time in Tallahassee, Marve spent the 2019 season at Mississippi State as defensive run game coordinator/linebackers coach. The Bulldogs tied for the SEC lead with 13 fumble recoveries, seven of which came from Marve's linebackers. LB Erroll Thompson led the team with 84 tackles, including 3.5 TFL. Meanwhile, LB Willie Gay, Jr. proved to be a defensive playmaker, registering a 52-yard INT return TD for the Bulldogs, to go along with two forced fumbles, a fumble recovery and 3.5 TFL. Gay was a second-round pick of Kansas City in the 2020 NFL Draft and won the AFC Championship with the Chiefs as a rookie.
- Marve has been recognized as a rising star in the coaching profession for several years. He earned a spot on the American Football Coaches Association 35 Under 35 list in 2014.
- Marve earned bachelor's degrees in sociology and human and organizational development from Vanderbilt in 2011. He completed his master's degree in higher education administration from Vanderbilt in 2015.

STU HOLT

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR/ASST. HEAD COACH-OFFENSE/RUNNING BACKS

 @coachstuholt

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia Tech Football head coach Brent Pry announced December 10 that Stu Holt has joined his staff and will serve as special teams coordinator/asst. head coach – offense/running backs.
- Holt has spent the past three seasons working as the special teams coordinator/tight ends coach at Louisville.
- In 2021, Holt helped TE Marshon Ford earn third-team All-ACC honors after leading the team in receiving with 47 catches for 530 yards with two touchdowns. Ford also finished second among ACC tight ends with six touchdowns in 2020 after leading the conference's tight ends with seven TD catches in 2019.
- During the 2020 season Holt mentored former walk-on K James Turner who earned All-ACC honorable mention honors after converting 86.7 percent (13 of 15) of his field goals.
- In his first season at Louisville in 2019, the Cardinals averaged 27.4 yards per kickoff return to rank fifth in the nation. Louisville also racked up 1,091 punt return yards that season to rank 18th in the country.
- Prior to his time in Louisville, Holt served as special teams coordinator/running backs coach at Appalachian State (2015-18). With Holt's help, the Mountaineers won three straight Sun Belt championships and made four consecutive bowl appearances. Appalachian State boasted an individual 1,000-yard rusher all four of those seasons, ranking in the FBS top 25 each of those years. The Mountaineers ranked sixth in the nation in rushing in 2015 (271.5 ypg), while coming in 10th in 2016 (250.9 ypg). During that four-year span, Appalachian State averaged 246.6 rushing ypg, the eighth-best total in the country over that stretch.
- In 2018, RB Darrynton Evans racked up 1,187 rushing yards with seven TDs to earn first-team All-Sun Belt honors. Evans also received third-team All-Sun Belt accolades as an all-purpose player.
- Holt's special teams unit was responsible for four touchdowns in 2018, tying for the FBS lead with three punt return TDs. The Mountaineers' kickoff return unit ranked second in the country (28.8 avg.) and also scored a touchdown.
- During the 2017 campaign RB Jalin Moore boasted his second consecutive 1,000-yard season as he rushed for 1,037 yards with 12 touchdowns.
- Holt and the Mountaineers boasted two 1,000-yard rushers in 2016 as Moore rushed for 1,402 yards en route to Sun Belt Offensive Player of the Year honors and RB Marcus Cox racked up 1,015 rushing yards.
- Cox rushed for 1,423 yards with nine TDs under Holt's tutelage in 2015.
- Holt owns the distinction of coaching three different players who at one time have held the all-time leading rushing record at their respective schools. Cox remains the all-time leading rusher in Appalachian State history with 5,103 career yards.

He also coached RB Lerron Moore who racked up 4,396 career rushing yards at Western Kentucky from 2003-06. That mark was later surpassed by another Holt pupil, RB Bobby Rainey, who holds the current mark for the Hilltoppers with 4,542 career rushing yards.

- Holt was originally hired as director of player personnel at South Florida in 2013 before adding special teams coordinator duties to his responsibilities.
- He then served as special teams coordinator/tight ends coach for the Bulls in 2014.
- During the 2014 campaign P Mattias Ciabatti set a single-season school record with a 44.4-yard punting average. The first-team all-conference selection also led the American Athletic Conference with 22 punts downed inside the 20 and 18 punts of 50+ yards.
- In 2013, Holt was nominated for the Broyles Award as the national assistant coach of the year. South Florida's special teams improved in nearly every statistical category despite having to replace its kicker and punter from the previous season. Under Holt's guidance, USF's special teams were ranked No. 3 nationally by ESPN Stats & Info. The Bulls led the American Athletic Conference and ranked ninth nationally in punt returns (14.4 avg.), while first-year K Marvin Kloss was one of three finalists for the Lou Groza Award presented annually to the nation's top kicker.
- Prior to his arrival at South Florida, Holt spent eight seasons at Western Kentucky (2004-09, 2011-12) and one season at Tennessee State (2010).
- As running backs coach for the Hilltoppers from 2004-09, he guided a unit that ranked 14th in FCS, averaging 226.2 rushing ypg in 2004.
- In 2005, RB Lerron Moore racked up 1,037 rushing yards and 10 TDs. In his final three seasons with Holt as his position coach, Moore accumulated 555 carries for 2,906 yards with 30 touchdowns.
- RB Tyrell Hayden also enjoyed a 1,000-yard season with Holt as his position coach, posting 1,134 rushing yards with 10 TDs in 2007.
- Holt also coordinated the Hilltoppers' special teams in 2005 and 2009.
- Tennessee State ranked 24th in rushing (190.0 ypg) among FCS squads with Holt coaching running backs in 2010. He then returned to Western Kentucky to coach offensive tackles/tight ends in 2011-12.
- Holt's collegiate coaching experience also includes stints at Bethune-Cookman (2001) and Cumberland (2000).
- His association with Pry began when he worked as a graduate assistant at Western Carolina (1998-99) and Pry served as the team's defensive line coach.
- He also coached at Norwich (1996), and has three years of high school coaching experience, including two years as head coach at New Smyrna Beach H.S. in New Smyrna Beach, Florida (2002-03).

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia Tech Football head coach Brent Pry announced Dec. 16 that Brad Glenn has joined his staff as pass game coordinator/quarterbacks coach for the Hokies.
- He comes to Blacksburg following a three-year run as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Georgia State and has previously been a Broyles Award Nominee as the top assistant coach in the nation.
- Glenn owns a reputation for developing record-setting passers at virtually every stop of his collegiate coaching career, including Appalachian State QB Armanti Edwards, who became the first two-time winner of the Walter Payton Award, presented annually to the nation's top FCS player. Edwards became the first quarterback in NCAA history to pass for over 10,000 yards and run for over 4,000 yards in his collegiate career. He concluded his career at Appalachian State with 14,753 yards of total offense, a figure that ranked second in FCS history behind the late Steve McNair of Alcorn State. Edwards also earned Southern Conference Player of the Year honors working with Glenn.
- During his most recent coaching stop at Georgia State, QB Darren Grainger threw for 1,512 yards with 16 touchdowns and only four interceptions under Glenn's tutelage in 2021. Meanwhile, seven Georgia State offensive players garnered All-Sun Belt recognition, including first-team OL Shamarious Gilmore.
- During the 2020 season, the Panthers averaged a school-record 33.3 ppg to along with 424.3 yards of total offense. Glenn mentored a first-year starting quarterback in Cornelius Brown IV, who did not have the benefit of a traditional spring practice, off-season and preseason camp due to the pandemic. Brown finished second in the Sun Belt in passing (227.8 ypg) and total offense (257.9 ypg) and was named the MVP of the LendingTree Bowl. Six offensive players were named to the 2020 All-Sun Belt Conference Team: Gilmore and OL Malik Sumter, WRs Sam Pinckney and Cornelius McCoy, TE Roger Carter and RB Destin Coates.
- In his first season at GSU in 2019, Glenn orchestrated the most prolific offensive season in program history, earning him a nomination for the Broyles Award as the nation's top assistant coach. The Panthers set school records by averaging 439.8 ypg of total offense and 241.6 rushing ypg. That rushing mark ranked 13th among FBS programs and was propelled by RB Tra Barnett, who led the Sun Belt with 1,453 rushing yards. Georgia State also produced a program-best 305 total first downs in 2019 and averaged 31.2 ppg. Eight offensive players earned All-Sun Belt honors in 2019, including QB Dan Ellington, who passed for 2,447 yards and 22 touchdowns while rushing for 668 yards and six scores, despite playing the final four games with a torn knee ligament.
- Glenn spent seven seasons as the associate head coach, offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Western Carolina from 2012-18. His tenure ushered in a prolific period for Western Carolina quarterbacks. In each of his last five seasons with the Catamounts, their starting quarterback averaged over 2,400 yards passing and more than 600 yards rushing.
- QB Troy Mitchell finished his career as Western Carolina's all-time leader in total offense with 9,397 yards, setting a single-season school mark with 3,096 yards of total offense in 2014. Mitchell also finished his career as WCU's all-time leading passer with 7,354 career passing yards.
- In 2016, QB Tyree Adams earned Southern Conference Freshman of the Year honors and was a finalist for the STATS FCS National Freshman of the Year.
- Glenn arrived at Western Carolina following seven years on staff at Appalachian State where he helped the Mountaineers earn seven straight berths in FCS Playoffs, including three straight national championships from 2005-07. During his time in Boone, N.C., he coached quarterbacks (2009-11), slot receivers (2006-08) and tight ends (2005). He was part of a staff that helped orchestrate one of the most memorable upsets in recent college football history as Appalachian State registered a 34-32 victory at No. 5 Michigan to open the 2007 season.
- Glenn began his coaching career as the offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Greer (S.C.) High School from 1995-2000, helping lead the program to a 25-3 record and back-to-back Upper State runner-up finishes his final two seasons.
- He earned his first collegiate position in 2001, coaching tight ends at Elon before spending the next two seasons as the offensive coordinator at North Greenville College.
- He returned to prep ranks in 2004 at Seneca (S.C.) High School before moving to Appalachian State.

JOE RUDOLPH

RUN GAME COORDINATOR/ OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

 @CoachJoeRudolph

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Joe Rudolph has spent the past seven seasons serving as associate head coach/run game coordinator/offensive line coach at the University of Wisconsin under head coach Paul Chryst.
- Since his arrival in Madison in 2015, the Badgers averaged 212.3 rushing ypg, a mark that ranks fifth among Power Five squads. Only Georgia Tech, Ohio State, Oregon and Oklahoma were better over that seven-season span. Wisconsin averaged 4.9 yards per carry and racked up 194 rushing TDs during his tenure as the Badgers made three Big Ten Championship Game appearances.
- Rudolph has also coached a litany of highly-decorated Wisconsin offensive linemen, many of whom have gone on to excel in the NFL ranks. The illustrious list includes five first-team All-America selections on the offensive line. T Ryan Ramczyk was a consensus All-America pick in 2016, was a first-round pick of New Orleans in the 2017 and earned first-team All-Pro honors in 2019. C Tyler Biadasz won the Rimington Trophy as the nation's top center in 2019 and was also a consensus All-America pick under Rudolph. G Beau Benzschawel twice earned first-team All-America honors for the Badgers. In 2017, T David Edwards was also a first-team All-America selection, while fellow T Michael Deiter earned first-team honors.
- It was business as usual for Rudolph and the Badgers' ground game in 2021, as Wisconsin ranked 15th in the nation, averaging 215.4 rushing yards per game. With Rudolph directing the running game, freshman RB Braelon Allen earned second-team All-Big Ten honors after finishing second in the conference and 21st in the country averaging 100.8 rushing ypg. Additionally, G Josh Seltzner and TE Jake Ferguson earned first-team All-Big Ten honors, while T Logan Bruss earned second-team accolades and T Tyler Beach earned third team all-conference in 2021.
- The Badgers' imposing line—a semifinalist for the Joe Moore Award presented to the nation's top unit in 2017—led the way for a historic season by RB Jonathan Taylor. Taylor ran for 1,977 yards to set the FBS freshman rushing record, while UW averaged 222.9 yards per game and 5.0 yards per carry. Taylor would go on to rack up 2,194 rushing yards in 2018 to earn the Doak Walker Award as the nation's top running back. For good measure, he added 2,003 ground yards in 2019 and another Doak Walker trophy to finish his three-year collegiate career with 6,174 rushing yards and 50 TDs before entering the NFL as a second-round NFL Draft pick of the Indianapolis Colts.
- Pro Football Focus rated Biadasz the nation's top center in 2019, while sophomore reserve Cole Van Lanen graded as the top tackle in the country.
- Remarkably, the Badgers claimed four of the five offensive line spots on the first-team All-Big Ten squad in 2018 (Benzschawel, Biadasz, Edwards and Deiter). Deiter was named Big Ten Offensive Lineman of the Year.
- Rudolph's blocking unit also helped the Badgers excel through the air in 2019 as QB Jack Coan completed a school-record 236 passes for 2,727 yards, the third-highest single-season total in UW history.
- Under Rudolph's direction in 2016, Ramczyk and UW's offensive front helped pave the way for first-team All-Big Ten RB Corey Clement to average 105.8 rushing ypg and score 15 touchdowns. The Badgers averaged 203.1 rushing ypg to rank third in the Big Ten.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Jones' coaching career began at Ole Miss, his alma mater, as a recruiting and operations graduate assistant in 1998 before serving as a defensive graduate assistant for the Rebels in 1999.
- The Woodruff, South Carolina native was a four-year letterwinner at Ole Miss as a cornerback from 1993-96. A two-time second-team All-SEC selection, he served as a team captain as a senior. He was also an All-SEC honoree as a sprinter on the track and field squad.
- Jones graduated from Ole Miss in 1996 with a degree in public administration. After his time in Oxford, Jones played professionally in the Canadian Football League for the Toronto Argonauts and Edmonton Eskimos and in the Arena Football League for the Nashville Kats.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia Tech Football head coach Brent Pry announced Dec. 5, 2021 that Derek Jones has joined Tech's coaching staff as defensive recruiting coordinator/cornerbacks coach.
- A 24-year coaching veteran, Jones most recently served as associate head coach and co-defensive coordinator at Texas Tech from 2020-21.
- In Lubbock, he mentored CB Demarcus Fields who was named a second-team All-Big 12 selection in 2021 and was an honorable mention all-conference pick in 2020. Jones molded CB Zech McPearson into a first-team All-Big 12 selection in 2020, becoming just the second Red Raiders' cornerback to earn that distinction since Texas Tech joined the Big 12 in 1996. McPearson was selected in the fourth round of the 2021 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles.
- CB Demarcus Fields led all Big 12 cornerbacks with 10 passes defensed in 2021 under Jones' tutelage, while CB Rayshad Williams ranked second with nine, making them the most productive tandem in the conference. Williams earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors.
- Prior to joining the Red Raiders, he enjoyed a 12-year stint working under head coach David Cutcliffe at Duke, serving as associate head coach in 2018-19.
- Prior to that, Jones worked in various capacities with the Blue Devils' defensive backs and spent 10 seasons as assistant special teams coordinator from 2008-17.
- During Jones' tenure in Durham, the Blue Devils made six bowl appearances and won the ACC Coastal Division in 2013 to reach the school's first-ever ACC Championship Game. Duke posted a 46-32 record from 2013-18, including a trio of bowl victories and a school-record 10 wins in 2013. Duke's appearance in the 2012 Belk Bowl marked the school's first bowl invite since 1995, while a victory in the 2015 Pinstripe Bowl marked the first bowl win for the Blue Devils since 1961.
- At Duke, Jones tutored players like CB Ross Cockrell who twice earned first-team All-ACC first-team honors for the Blue Devils and was selected in the fourth round of the 2014 NFL Draft by Buffalo. Cockrell was the first Blue Devil defensive back to be selected in the NFL Draft since 1996.
- Cockrell left Duke as the school's all-time leader in passes defensed (54) and produced 12 interceptions during his collegiate career. CB Mark Gilbert was also a first-team All-ACC selection at Duke under his guidance.
- As assistant special teams coordinator for the Blue Devils, Jones helped WR Jamison Crowder reach the NFL ranks after excelling on special teams. Crowder was a 2013 second-team All-America selection of the Football Writers of America Association, Phil Steele and Sports Illustrated. Crowder earned 2012 second-team All-America status as an all-purpose player by Lindy's. He was selected by Washington in the fourth round of the 2015 NFL Draft. CB DeVon Edwards earned second-team Walter Camp All-America honors as a return specialist in 2013 and returned six kickoffs for touchdowns during his collegiate career.
- Coach Pry's association with Jones dates back to the 2007 season at Memphis when Jones coached the secondary and Tech's current head coach worked with the Tigers' defensive line. The Tigers earned a berth in the New Orleans Bowl that season.
- Jones served as cornerbacks coach for Tulsa in 2006 helping the Golden Hurricane lead Conference USA in passes defensed and an appearance in the 2006 Armed Forces Bowl. Tulsa CB Nick Graham earned all-conference honors under Jones' tutelage and was later signed as a free agent by Philadelphia.
- Jones joined the Tulsa staff following one season as the defensive backs coach at Middle Tennessee State and five years as the cornerbacks coach and recruiting coordinator at Murray State.
- The Racers produced seven All-Conference selections at cornerback during Jones' five seasons as Murray State led the Ohio Valley Conference in pass defense (142.0 ypg) in 2003 and ranked 11th nationally in total defense (300.9 ypg) in 2004.
- Jones is also a published author after his book, Always Play to Win, hit the shelves in 2017. The book serves as a collection of inspirational quotes to help readers approach every day with a positive mindset. All proceeds from book sales and subsequent speaking engagements help provide financial support to college students from my Jones' hometown.

FONTEL MINES

OFFENSIVE RECRUITING COORDINATOR/ WIDE RECEIVERS COACH

 @Coach_Mines  coach_mines

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia Tech Football head coach Brent Pry announced Jan. 12 that Fontel Mines has joined his staff as offensive recruiting coordinator/wide receivers coach.
- The Richmond native owns previous coaching experience at the University of Richmond, James Madison and ODU and has recruited the Commonwealth of Virginia extensively throughout his career.
- Prior to joining the Hokies, Mines was promoted to associate head coach/tight ends coach at Old Dominion following the 2021 season when he served as ODU's tight ends coach. He mentored TE Zack Kuntz, who posted 73 receptions, the second-highest total by a FBS tight end last season and the best single-season tally by a tight end in ODU history. Kuntz finished the year with 692 receiving yards and five TDs – also the best seasonal marks ever by an ODU tight end – as the Monarchs earned a berth in the 2021 Myrtle Beach Bowl.
- He spent the previous two seasons as the tight ends/inside receivers coach at East Carolina (2019-20), in addition to serving as recruiting coordinator for the Pirates. Mines coached East Carolina WR Tyler Snead, helping Snead earn all-conference honors in 2020. In 2019, Snead broke the ECU freshman record for receptions (66) and touchdowns (five) in a season, while his 19 catches at SMU (11/9/19) were the most in an FBS game that season. In his two seasons under Mines' tutelage Snead hauled in 199 catches for 1,283 yards with 10 TDs. He also returned 43 kickoffs for 890 yards with two TDs.
- As the recruiting coordinator for the Pirates, Mines helped compile the fourth-ranked recruiting class in the American Athletic Conference in 2020. Mines ranked No. 6 among all AAC coaches in 247Sports coach recruiting rankings in 2020 and 2021.

- Mines coached inside receivers/tight ends at James Madison (2017-18) and added recruiting coordinator duties to his responsibilities prior to the 2018 campaign. He coached the 2017 Colonial Athletic Association Special Teams Player of the Year WR John Miller, who collected 35 passes for 393 yards with one TD as the Dukes advanced to the FCS Championship Game. JMU advanced to the second round of the FCS Playoffs in 2018, giving the Dukes a 23-5 record during Mines' tenure with the squad.
- He began his Division I coaching tenure with a five-year stint at Richmond (2012-16), helping the Spiders to three consecutive appearances in the FCS Playoffs. Mines coached wide receivers (2012-13, 2015-16) and tight ends (2014) at Richmond, including a trio of players who earned opportunities in the NFL. WR Brian Brown was a three-time All-CAA performer and finished his career as the school's all-time leading receiver with 247 catches for 4,203 yards with 23 TDs. WR Ben Edwards earned all-conference honors in both 2012 and 2013 under Mines' tutelage, hauling in 154 catches for 1,558 yards with eight TDs over that two-year span. WR Reggie Diggs was also a two-time All-CAA performer at Richmond and produced 106 catches for 1,385 yards with six TDs while working with Mines.
- Mines began his college coaching tenure at NCAA Division II Chowan University in Murfreesboro, N.C. He coached the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association Player of the Year WR Robert Holland, who ranks second in NCAA Division II history with 325 career receptions.
- Mines inaugurated his coaching career at his alma mater, Hermitage High School, where he was an all-state selection as a senior playing wide receiver and safety.

SHAWN QUINN

SAM LINEBACKERS/ NICKELS COACH

 @CoachShawnQuinn  shawnquinn526

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia Tech head football coach Brent Pry announced Dec. 5, 2021 that former Savannah State head coach Shawn Quinn has joined his coaching staff as sam linebackers/nickels coach.
- Pry and Quinn previously collaborated at Georgia Southern in 2010 when Pry served as defensive coordinator and Quinn worked as the linebackers coach.
- The duo also worked together at Louisiana-Lafayette from 2002-06.
- Quinn has spent the past three years as the head coach of Savannah State where he led the Tigers to a 16-6 record after transitioning from the FCS level to NCAA Division II.
- Quinn's squad went 8-2 in 2021, the program's most victories in 26 years as Tigers finished eighth in NCAA Division II in total defense (249.8 ypg).
- Due to COVID-19, Savannah State did not play a fall season in 2020. The Tigers went 1-1 during a two-game 2021 spring schedule in 2021.
- In 2019, Quinn piloted the program to a 7-3 record, the team's first winning record since 1998. Quinn also became just the second head coach in the program's 100-year history to record a winning season in his first year as head coach. He guided Savannah State to a 5-0 record in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference en route to the SIAC East Division title. Quinn was named the 2019 Black College Sports Network Coach of the Year after the Tigers finished the season ranked No. 8 in the Boxtorow HBCU Top 10 Poll. The Tigers posted the conference's top scoring defense in 2019 at 21.1 ppg.
- Under Quinn's leadership, the Tigers boasted 15 all-conference players in two full seasons of competition, including 2019 conference freshman of the year RB Einaj Carter.
- Prior to being named the 26th head coach in Savannah State history, Quinn served as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for the Tigers during the 2018 season. His defense finished the year third in FCS in pass defense (138.5 ypg).

- Quinn worked as a defensive analyst at The Citadel during the 2017 season where he assisted with defensive game-planning and opponent preparation. He also ran analysis on opponent tendencies during his time with the Bulldogs.
- He worked as assistant head coach/defensive coordinator at Tennessee Tech in 2016. Under Quinn, the Golden Eagles improved their scoring defense by 7.2 ppg from the 2015 season, including an 11.0-ppg improvement in conference play.
- Before arriving at Tennessee Tech, Quinn spent three years as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Western Carolina (2013-15).
- He held the same roles at Charleston Southern in 2012.
- Quinn served as linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator at Georgia Southern from 2010-11, where he worked under Pry during his first season.
- Prior to that stop, Quinn worked as the co-defensive coordinator at Northwestern State in 2009.
- Quinn served as the defensive ends coach at LSU during the 2008 season where he helped DE Tyson Jackson earn second-team All-SEC honors. Jackson was the third overall pick in the 2009 NFL Draft by Kansas City.
- Prior to his time in Baton Rouge, Quinn served as the defensive line coach at Louisiana-Lafayette from 2002-08, working under Pry from 2002-06.
- Quinn's collegiate coaching career began in 1999 as a graduate assistant at Tennessee where he worked with the offensive line and special teams. Quinn was part of the staff that led the Volunteers to the 2001 SEC East Division title and three bowl appearances after beginning his coaching career in the collegiate ranks.
- A four-year starter on the defensive line at Carson-Newman, he helped lead the Eagles to four straight conference championships.
- Quinn graduated in 1995 with a degree in history and political science. He then earned his master's degree in 1998 from Lincoln Memorial.

FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

MICHAEL HAZEL

ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR-CHIEF OF STAFF

Michael Hazel enters his initial season as assistant athletic director—chief of staff at Virginia Tech after working in operations for Penn State football for the past eight seasons. He was promoted to senior director of football operations following a five-year stint as director of football operations for the Nittany Lions.

At Penn State, Hazel's duties included overseeing the program's external operations, analytics and facilities projects. He also served as the liaison between the Nittany Lions' football program and the athletic department's marketing, creative services, strategic communications and video production offices. Hazel was named the 2020 FootballScoop Operations Director of the Year and was a finalist for the award in 2015 and 2016.

During Hazel's tenure with the Nittany Lions, Penn State has finished in the top 12 of the final College Football Playoff rankings in four of the last six seasons, has earned berths in three New Year's Six bowl games with two wins and won the 2016 Big Ten Championship.

Prior to his time at Penn State, Hazel worked in various roles on the football staff at Vanderbilt for 11 seasons. He served as director of football operations (2011-14), assistant director of football operations (2005-10) and defensive graduate assistant (2004). With the Commodores, Hazel was part of the program's first bowl appearance in 26 years in 2008, as well as back-to-back bowl wins in 2013-14.

Hazel arrived in Nashville following three years as a defensive graduate assistant for his alma mater, Elon. Hazel was a four-year letterman as a linebacker and special teams performer for the Phoenix and helped the program to a 28-16 record during its transition to the FCS level.

The Easley, South Carolina native graduated from Elon in 2001 with a degree in corporate communications. He earned his MBA from Elon in 2004 and later earned his master's degree in organizational leadership from Vanderbilt in 2007.

Hazel and his wife, Molly, have a son, Ezra, and a daughter, Maya.

SHANNON LEWIS

EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH

Lewis manages Coach Pry's schedule and calendar as well as setting up recruiting travel trips for him. Also manages all autograph and donation requests, supervises day-to-day office administration and manages master contact databases for Coach Pry's mailings/invitations. Also assists with the processing of new employees

TRAVIS TAYLOR

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Travis Taylor begins his first campaign in Blacksburg after serving as director of football operations at Western Kentucky for the past three seasons (2019-21). In that capacity, he played a key role in all day-to-day operations of the Hilltoppers' football program. In addition to assisting with all team travel logistics, he coordinated the team's community service efforts and onboarded new student-athletes. Taylor's duties involved assisting with camps and official visits, as well as serving as the team's liaison with university housing officials. He previously worked as the assistant director of football operations at Western Kentucky from 2014-15.

The Unadilla, Georgia native rejoined the Hilltoppers in 2019 after serving as the director of player engagement at the University of Southern California (2018). In that capacity he collaborated with the director of football operations to promote the academic and athletic success of USC's student-athletes. In addition, Taylor worked in conjunction with various support service departments including academics, housing, financial aid and admissions. He also managed community relations programming for the Trojans.

Prior to working in the private sector in 2017, Taylor served as director of football operations at Georgia Southern University in 2016. He began his professional career in football as assistant director of football operations at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) in 2009 before being promoted to director of football operations at UAB in 2012. He stayed in that role until beginning his initial stint at Western Kentucky in January 2014. During his tenure in college football, he has been a member of five teams that have made bowl appearances. Most recently, he was part of a Western Kentucky squad that defeated Appalachian State in the 2021 Boca Raton Bowl.

A four-year letterman at Valdosta State, Taylor was a three-year starter at wide receiver and was a member of squads that won NCAA Division II national championships in 2004 and 2007. He owns a bachelor's degree in exercise physiology from Valdosta State and later added a master's degree in educational leadership.

KEVIN JUSZYNSKI

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Kevin Juszynski enters his first season as assistant director of football operations for the Hokies in 2022. He spent the past two seasons assisting Hazel at Penn State and helped the Nittany Lions earn a berth in the 2021 Outback Bowl. Juszynski will serve as the football staff's liaison to the marketing, digital strategy, creative media and strategic communications departments, as well as HokieVision. In addition to assisting Taylor with all team travel logistics, he will work with the personnel department in the execution of all recruiting visits and will help coordinate Tech's Pro Day and coaching clinics, as well as camps and other events. He will be responsible for managing the day-to-day upkeep and maintenance needs of Tech's football facilities, as well.

He gained NFL experience working as an event operations intern for the Kansas City Chiefs during their 2021 training camp at Missouri Western State University in St. Joseph, Missouri. He also served as part of NFL Green—the league's program that mitigates the environmental impact of the major events—at the 2019 NFL Draft in Nashville. Juszynski was raised in Quakertown, Pennsylvania. He graduated Cum Laude from Penn State earning a bachelor's degree in recreation, park and tourism management with a minor in sports studies.

JAKE SCHELL

FOOTBALL OPERATIONS & ANALYTICS ASSISTANT

Jake Schell begins his initial year as a football operations and analytics assistant at Tech in 2022. He joined the Hokies after serving as a defensive student assistant working with Coach Pry the past three seasons at Penn State, helping the Nittany Lions earn berths in the Citrus, Cotton and Outback Bowls. He originally began his work with the PSU football program as a video manager in 2018. Schell also gained experience as a football operations intern with the Arena League's Philadelphia Soul in the summer of 2019. He also provided weekly freelance analytics reports to ESPN's Chris Fowler to assist his preparation for weekly matchups and events such as the College Football Playoff and Heisman Trophy presentation.

In his role with the Hokies, Schell will assist the football staff with roster management and practice preparation. He will also utilize research to create data-driven strategies to optimize organizational decision making and performance. In addition, Schell will assist the personnel department with numerous aspects of the recruiting process, including all on-campus visits. The Dresher, Pennsylvania native received his finance degree from Penn State's Smeal College of Business in May 2022.

PLAYER ENGAGEMENT

CARRIE LYNNE WOLFORD

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER ENGAGEMENT

Carrie Lynne Wolford (Wytheville, Va. & George Wythe HS) has moved into a new role as director of player engagement. In her new role, Wolford will lead the development and implementation of Tech's player development program for football. A familiar face for Hokies' student-athletes, she served as assistant director of football operations at Virginia Tech since August 2021. In that role, she communicated with the entire squad on a regular basis and assisted in coordinating a myriad of logistical tasks for the team, both at home and on the road.

Prior to joining Tech's football staff, Wolford spent four years as a member of Virginia Tech's Student-Athlete Support Services (SAASS) staff. She worked as an assistant director in that department, providing academic, personal and career support for members of the football team and Tech's spirit squads.

She began her tenure with SAASS as an athletic academic advising intern in 2018. Wolford began working with football student-athletes on their academic progress in 2019 and also met with prospective athletes and their families during recruiting events. She later became a tutor coordinator for SAASS, where she hired, trained and supervised over 100 tutors in the program.

Wolford graduated from Tech with a degree in human development in 2017 and added a master's degree in counseling and human development from Radford University in 2019. She is a member of the National Association for Academic Advisors of Athletics.

EQUIPMENT

STEWART CARTER

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL EQUIPMENT SERVICES

Stewart Carter joined the Hokies as director of football equipment services in January 2022. He arrived in Blacksburg from Penn State where he served as assistant equipment manager for football since 2014, where spent eight years working with Pry and the Nittany Lions' program. Carter assisted with the budgeting and issuing of equipment and apparel and oversaw the student staff at Penn State.

Prior to Penn State, Carter served as the head equipment manager at Georgia Southern for 14 years where he outfitted all 16 of the school's varsity programs. He was named the Athletic Equipment Managers Association (AEMA) District 3 Equipment Manager of the Year in 2009 and served on the Schutt Sports Athletic Council from 2005-06. Carter also designed the equipment room for the 50,000 square-foot football operations center at Georgia Southern.

Before arriving at Georgia Southern, Carter worked at Fresno State for six years, beginning his tenure as an assistant equipment manager in 1994. In that role, he handled the budgeting and inventory of equipment for the football, baseball and men's and women's soccer programs. He was promoted to equipment manager in 1997 and oversaw the equipment needs for men's basketball, men's golf, men's tennis, wrestling and the men's track and cross-country programs.

Carter began his athletic equipment career as the head student equipment manager while an undergraduate at Georgia Tech. Upon graduation, he worked as an athletic equipment reconditioner for Circle System Group where he evaluated athletic equipment for repairs before moving to Fresno State.

He graduated from Georgia Tech with a degree in management in 1994 and earned his certification from the AEMA in 1997.

PLAYER PERSONNEL

MICHAEL VILLAGRANA SENIOR DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Michael Villagrana enters his initial season as senior director of player personnel for the Hokies. He comes to Blacksburg after serving as general manager at Marshall University, overseeing that school's recruiting, player personnel and roster management efforts along with head coach Charles Huff.

During his tenure at Marshall, he played an integral role in assembling the school's 2022 recruiting class, the highest-rated group in school history. He previously served as director of recruiting at Mississippi State, working under head coaches Mike Leach and Joe Moorhead. The Bulldogs' 2021 recruiting class ranked 26th in the country, while Villagrana helped keep a 2020 group intact after a coaching change, signing 24 out of 25 committed players to give MSU the nation's No. 28 class. Mississippi State's 2019 class ranked 24th in the nation and included highly-touted T Charles Cross, one of the highest-rated recruits to ever sign with the Bulldogs.

The Youngstown, Ohio native began his relationship with Pry at Penn State from 2015-17. Prior to departing for Mississippi State, he played a key role in assembling a 2018 recruiting class that ranked sixth in the country. That group included future NFL draftees such as LB Micah Parsons (Dallas), DE Odafie Oweh (Baltimore) and TE Pat Freiermuth (Pittsburgh). Penn State's 2017 signees ranked 15th in the nation and featured NFL performers such as DE Yetur Gross-Matos (Carolina) and WR K.J. Hamler (Denver). Villagrana helped construct a 2016 Penn State recruiting class that ranked 20th in the country and produced eight current NFL players. He originally joined the Nittany Lions as an assistant recruiting coordinator in 2015, his first non-coaching football assignment.

Before working in player personnel, Villagrana was the wide receivers coach at Savannah State during the 2014 season. Prior to that, he was the offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator at Hampton in 2013 after serving as the Pirates' special teams coordinator from 2010-12.

Villagrana began his collegiate career as a graduate assistant for two seasons at his alma mater, West Virginia, where he secured his master's degree in athletic coaching education. He played on the defensive line and at tight end for the Mountaineers from 2003-07 and was part of squads that claimed wins in the Sugar Bowl and Fiesta Bowl. His lone collegiate touchdown catch came against Virginia Tech in 2005. He joined the Mountaineers after playing at Boardman High School in Youngstown, Ohio.

He and his wife, Tiffany, are parents of a son, Dominic and a daughter, Camryn.

Jones began his career as a football operations intern with the NFL's Cleveland Browns in 2016. He owns a bachelor's degree in sport management from Baldwin Wallace University and a master's degree in sport management from West Virginia.

ROB BRANCH

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Rob Branch (Baltimore, Md. & Gilman School) enters his first season as a player personnel assistant at Virginia Tech. Branch joins Pry's staff after spending four years at West Virginia state where he was the safeties and corners coach, managing his position rooms and developing all-conference athletes in addition to assisting on special teams. Branch also served as the head recruiter for athletics in the admissions department.

He won a national championship playing for James Madison in 2016 where he played safety for two seasons. Branch concluded his playing career at West Virginia State where he was a team captain and earned the program's MVP award.

CAMIE COLE

DIRECTOR OF RECRUITING

Camie Cole begins her initial campaign as Virginia Tech's director of recruiting. She joined the Hokies in 2022 after serving as director of player personnel for Marshall where she worked with current Tech senior director of player personnel Michael Villagran. The pair helped Marshall assemble its 2022 recruiting class, the highest-rated group in Thundering Herd history. During her tenure at Marshall, she assisted in the planning and execution of all recruiting functions, in addition to coordinating summer football camps and recruiting travel for assistant coaches.

Prior to her appointment at Marshall, Cole served at Austin Peay from 2019-20. She joined the Governors as director of on-campus recruiting in 2019 and added director of operations to her responsibilities in 2020. In addition to leading all off-field operations in 2020, she also served as the eligibility and admissions manager for prospective student-athletes.

The Tupelo, Mississippi native spent 2018 as a recruiting assistant at Mississippi State while Villagran served as the Bulldogs' director of recruiting. She earned a master's degree in sport administration from Mississippi State in 2019. Cole began her football career at LSU as a student assistant for the football program in 2013 and worked in various capacities with the Tigers until her graduation in 2017.

She and her husband, Will Nations, were married in 2020.

JALYN BALLEIN

DIRECTOR OF ON-CAMPUS RECRUITING

Jalyn Ballein begins her first season as director of on-campus recruiting for the Hokies. She previously served as Wake Forest Football's assistant to the head coach and on-campus recruiting coordinator. She was appointed to that post in 2021 and was part of a Demon Deacons program that won the ACC Atlantic Division title, registered a victory in the 2021 Gator Bowl and finished the season with an 11-3 record.

With Wake Forest, Ballein worked directly with head coach Dave Clawson and coordinated Wake Forest's on-campus recruiting efforts. She played a key role in helping assemble the 2022 recruiting class that was the highest-rated group of Clawson's tenure in Winston-Salem. She coordinated official and unofficial visits, in addition to organizing campus tours and meetings with key athletics and university staff. Prior to her time at Wake Forest, Ballein served as the director of on-campus recruiting at Georgia Southern. While in Statesboro, Ballein was part of a squad that finished the 2020 season at 8-5 and won the R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl. She was also part of a staff that recruited a top 100 class for the Eagles in the 2021 cycle.

Ballein joins her parents as members of the Virginia Tech Athletics staff. Her father, John, currently works as executive associate director of athletics and served on Frank Beamer's football staff for 29 years. Her mother, Stephanie, serves as chief of staff for the Tech men's basketball program. The Georgia Southern graduate majored in public relations and is pursuing her master's degree in sports management with an emphasis in business.

GLENWOOD FERESEE

He was part of a staff that helped propel the Eagles to three bowl appearances, including wins in the 2018 Camellia Bowl and 2020 New Orleans Bowl. During his tenure, he helped develop a pair of 2020 NFL Draft picks in DB Kindle Vildor (Chicago) and K Tyler Bass (Buffalo).

Prior to Georgia Southern, Greenhalgh was an assistant director of strength and conditioning at Appalachian State (2014-17). During his tenure with the Mountaineers, he was part of a team that compiled a 37-14 record and Sun Belt Conference titles in 2016 and 2017. Appalachian State also registered three bowl victories during his tenure. During a one-year stint as a strength and conditioning graduate assistant at The Citadel (2013-14), he worked with the baseball program and assisted with football, men's and women's track and field, as well as wrestling.

The Chepachet, Rhode Island native worked as a strength and conditioning intern at Rhode Island and at South Carolina. He was a four-year letterwinner on the offensive line for Rhode Island from 2008-12 and graduated with a degree in kinesiology. Greenhalgh served as a team captain during his senior season after earning a spot on the Allstate Good Works Team as a junior in 2011. He owns a master's degree in sports management from Western Carolina.

He and his wife, Emily, are parents of a son, Mack.

NUTRITION

CARLY HARRIS

DIRECTOR OF SPORTS NUTRITION - FOOTBALL

Carly Harris is a registered dietitian who joined the Hokies in July 2020. Since her arrival in Blacksburg, she has coordinated all of the nutrition needs for the football program, ranging from meals in Tech's Student-Athletic Performance Center, to pregame and postgame meals at home and on the road, as well as other supplemental dietary needs. In addition, Harris manages Tech's fueling stations, oversees inventory and ordering of products, as well as the production of pre-fueling nutraceuticals and individualized recovery shakes. She develops programmatic nutritional education materials, presentations and events for Tech's football student-athletes, as well as assessing and analyzing dietary practices, body composition and energy balance of student-athletes in the context of athletic performance and health.

The Minnesota native earned a bachelor's degree in foods & nutrition from the University of Prince Edward Island. She also holds a bachelor's degree in sport management from Trinity Western University in British Columbia, Canada. Prior to joining the Hokies she spent a year as a sport nutrition fellow at the University of Illinois, providing nutritional care for the Fighting Illini football team, as well as the Illinois swimming and diving teams. While at Illinois, Harris was responsible for counseling student athletes on optimal nutrition for training, competition, recovery, weight management, hydration, disordered eating, travel, and supplementation, as well as coordinating body composition assessments using GE Lunar iDXA and InBody.

Before joining the Illinois football program, Harris served as a volunteer with the NHL's New Jersey Devils, where she assisted the medical staff with athletic testing during development camp and attended team education sessions.

I'm truly excited for Brent and his family. I know Blacksburg has held a special place in Brent's heart since his time as a graduate assistant at Virginia Tech. Coach Pry and I have a relationship dating back to my college playing days, and I know how hard he's worked for this opportunity. I will forever be grateful for Brent's friendship, support and loyalty. He's a passionate leader who will inspire his team to play their best football; but his greatest strengths are his dedication, relatability and humility. It's those characteristics combined with his deep understanding of X&O's that will serve Virginia Tech and the entire Blacksburg community best. I will forever be a fan of Brent Pry and look forward to cheering him on as he takes this next step in his career.

SPORTS MEDICINE

The Sports Medicine Department at Virginia Tech continues to evolve, incorporating new ideas by utilizing state-of-the-art resources for the betterment of all Hokie student-athletes. Under the leadership of Associate Athletics Director for Sports Medicine Mike Goforth, the department is constantly improving and developing new strategies to provide the most current and comprehensive care.

Dr. Mark Rogers serves as Tech's Chief Medical Officer in accordance with NCAA requirements. According to legislation passed at the 2016 NCAA Convention, each member institution must designate a health care administrator to oversee the school's health care administration and delivery.

The team of certified athletic trainers, orthopaedic surgeons, Board Certified primary care sports medicine physicians from The Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine (VCOM)—Virginia Campus, physical therapists, brace consultants, sport psychologists, nutritionists and massage therapists are available on site to manage the health care needs of Virginia Tech's student-athletes.

Following the 12th full year in the 4,300-square-foot Eddie Ferrell Memorial Training Room, the space was expanded in 2013 to create a facility that unites the training and medical staffs in a centralized area to care for the needs of all Virginia Tech student-athletes.

Tech now has more than 10,000 square feet dedicated to sports medicine, placing it in the top five percent nationally. The addition of the rehabilitation area makes Tech the first school to install the new Pavi Gym Customized flooring and X-Lab Fitness Rack, while also adding numerous pieces of equipment to address strength, flexibility, proprioception, and cardiovascular endurance. This space is directly joined with the new training area that is home to dozens of training tables, two cold tubs, whirlpools, an underwater treadmill, and a Biodex Balance System.

A vital part of student-athlete medical services is access to Carilion Clinic and its vast array of specialty services offered through the nationally recognized hospital system and its affiliates.

"We are privileged to have access to the finest physicians and services that Carilion Clinic and VCOM have at their disposal," Goforth said. "It is comforting knowing that our local hospital has the best care available in this region of the country for our student-athletes."

"As certified athletic trainers, for us to have the resources we have is a tremendous asset," Goforth said. "The knowledge and skills that they bring are invaluable."

Over the years, Tech has developed the reputation for producing top-level certified athletic trainers. Graduates are now employed in positions across the country at various levels of the profession.

BRETT GRIESEMER

HEAD FOOTBALL ATHLETIC TRAINER

MADED, LAT,
ATC, CSCS

Brett Griesemer enters his 13th season as a member of Tech's sports medicine team. He was named head football athletic trainer in April 2021 after serving as senior director, sports medicine—football since 2018. Griesemer coordinates all sports medicine needs for the Virginia Tech football program, working in conjunction with Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Mark Rogers and Associate Athletics Director for sports medicine, Mike Goforth.

Griesemer owns a master's degree in instructional technology from Virginia Tech (2012) and a bachelor's degree in athletic training from the University of Florida (2010). During his time at Florida he spent four seasons as a student athletic trainer and also interned with the Houston Texans. He is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association as well as the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

The Royal Palm Beach, Florida native serves on both the Virginia Tech Athletics Research and Concussion Committees. Griesemer has previously worked with Tech's track and field, baseball and cross country programs, in addition to football. During his time at Florida and Virginia Tech, Griesemer has worked with football teams that have made 11 bowl appearances, as well as numerous championship events.

Griesemer and his wife, Megan, are parents of sons Maddox and Cohen.

MIKE GOFORTH

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR FOR SPORTS MEDICINE

Mike Goforth enters his 25th year at Virginia Tech and currently serves as Tech's associate athletics director for sports medicine. In that role, he oversees the healthcare needs of student-athletes in all of the Hokies' 22 varsity sports. He also works closely with Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Mark Rogers in developing and implementing all policies, procedures and protocols for sports medicine at Tech. Goforth supervises Tech's team of full-time trainers, graduate assistants and student-staff, in addition to all other healthcare-related services for Tech Athletics.

Goforth was hired by legendary Tech trainer Eddie Ferrell in 1998. He joined the Hokies after serving as the director of wellness and sports medicine at the Hamilton Medical Center/Bradley Wellness Center in Dalton, Georgia. Owning an extensive background in sports medicine, he previously worked at East Tennessee State University, William Fleming High School and Tusculum College. The Bluefield, West Virginia native graduated from East Tennessee State with a degree in physical education in 1991. He added a master's in sport management from Virginia Tech in 1995.

Goforth's wife, Tracy, is a teacher at Blacksburg Middle School. The couple has two sons. Ethan played baseball collegiately at Carson-Newman and is a catcher in the Pittsburgh Pirates organization. Luke is currently enrolled at Carson-Newman and is a redshirt freshman on the baseball squad.

THE EDDIE FERRELL TRAINING ROOM

Virginia Tech's sports medicine facility is named the Eddie Ferrell Training Room in honor of Tech's late athletic trainer, Eddie Ferrell, who was posthumously inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 1999. Ferrell served at Tech for 28 years, including 19 years as head athletic trainer. A graduate of the University of Arkansas, he held posts at the University of Arkansas and Oregon State University, and with the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL before coming to Virginia Tech in 1970.

Eddie was a consummate professional on and off the field; he was always striving to improve his credentials, as evidenced by his earning a master's degree in Athletic Administration from Virginia Tech in December of 1994.

MARK ROGERS, D.O.

CHIEF MEDICAL OFFICER

Mark Rogers, D.O., CAQSM, FAAFP, FAOASM, serves as the chief medical officer at Virginia Tech where he oversees care administration and delivery for Tech Athletics programs. The Brookfield, Wisconsin native joined the Tech staff in 2006 as a Primary Care Sports Medicine Fellow at the Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine-Virginia Campus (VCOM) and Virginia Tech. He previously completed his family medicine residency training at University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, where he was selected as chief resident.

Rogers serves on the Atlantic Coast Conference Medical Advisory Group (MAG) that played an integral role in developing and implementing mitigation strategies and policies during the COVID-19 pandemic. He serves as an associate professor in the Departments of Family Medicine and Osteopathic Medicine, Discipline of Sports Medicine at VCOM, and is the director of primary care sports medicine fellowship. He serves as a team physician for Virginia Tech, the Pulaski River Turtles, a member of the Appalachian League, and is involved with Virginia Tech Sport Clubs and several local high schools.

He received his bachelor's degree in chemistry from UNC Charlotte in 1996 and a master's in health care ethics from Duquesne University in 1999. Rogers earned his Doctorate in Osteopathic Medicine (D.O.) from the Des Moines University Osteopathic Medical Center in 2003.

An avid Green Bay Packers fan, Dr. Rogers and his wife, Krista are parents of two children, Connor and Keagan.

SPORTS NUTRITION

Nutrition is an integral component of sports performance and the lives of Virginia Tech student-athletes. That's why the Department of Athletics implemented the sports nutrition program in July of 2002. Virginia Tech Sports Nutrition aims to help athletes reach their full potential in their athletic careers and beyond with a food first, evidence based approach. The sports nutrition staff, directed by Alyson Onyon, MS, RD, CSSD, consists of five Registered Dietitians. They manage the nutrition needs for all 22 teams at Virginia Tech. The dietitians work closely with sports medicine, strength and conditioning and psychology in a multi-disciplinary approach to best meet the athletes' performance needs, and overall health and well-being. HokieFuel aims to stay at the cutting edge of sport science research to help athletes maximize their energy levels, enhance recovery and improve performance.

VIRGINIA TECH HELMET LAB

- When Stefan Duma's research team installed impact sensors in the helmets of Virginia Tech's varsity football players in 2003, it launched the nation's first field-based study of head impacts in collegiate football.
  - The data revealed a clearer picture of what players actually experience on the field, and eventually led to the development by Duma and his coworkers of the Virginia Tech Helmet Ratings, an evidence-based five-star system that gives consumers an unbiased assessment of which helmets reduce concussion risk most effectively.
  - The Virginia Tech Helmet Lab, founded by Duma and now run by associate professor of biomedical engineering and mechanics Steve Rowson, has since expanded the five-star rating system to cover an even broader pool of athletes: the group now rates protective headgear for hockey, soccer, cycling, and youth football, in addition to varsity football.
  - The work has shifted the way consumers purchase helmets and given companies a new tool to inform safety-conscious design; in fact, ratings for football and hockey helmets have improved dramatically since the system's introduction.
  - Impact data gathered during games and practices is also transmitted instantaneously to the sidelines, alerting trainers and sports physicians to potentially dangerous blows. That has facilitated quicker evaluation and treatment of injured athletes and new research on biomarkers that could help diagnose concussion.
  - Duma's team leads Virginia Tech's participation in a landmark national study of concussions in college athletes and military personnel. The multi-
- university project, sponsored by the NCAA and the U.S. Department of Defense, is now in its second cycle and represents cumulative funding of $52.5 million.
- The Helmet Lab's work routinely receives nationwide coverage and has been featured in outlets including ESPN, NBC, and the New York Times.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Office of Student-Athlete Development is committed to the holistic support of the career, leadership, and personal development of Hokie student-athletes in order to bridge the gap between athletics and academics and build a foundation for success at Virginia Tech and beyond.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

With the university motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve) at our core, the Office of Student-Athlete Development is committed to serving each member of the Hokies 22 athletic teams throughout their college career. Holistic education on time management, financial literacy, sexual assault and relationship violence, alcohol education, diversity and inclusion, and mental health, are designed to enhance the student-athlete experience. Our office also assists student-athletes in taking advantage of the many opportunities available to volunteer with local and national organizations during their time at Tech.

4,000

Virginia Tech student-athletes contribute more than 4,000 hours annually in the community, with football student-athletes completing more than 900 hours of community work.

Virginia Tech student-athletes embody the university motto Ut Prosim by partnering with community organizations such as the Special Olympics, Roanoke Carilion Children's Clinic and various local schools. Pictured: Tyrell Smith volunteering at a local elementary school.

Career Jumpstart is open exclusively to junior and senior Hokie student-athletes and provides them with opportunities to enhance their career development skills through an Industry Info Session and Networking Reception.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

The Virginia Tech Athletics Leadership Institute allows student-athletes to take their leadership potential and skills to the next level. Whether through the three-year progressive leadership academy, guest speakers, or domestic and abroad experiential learning programs, Hokie student-athletes have a variety of opportunities to grow as leaders on and off their field of play, while creating strong connections within and across their teams.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

Student-Athlete Academic Support Services (SAASS) is committed to providing a comprehensive academic and personal development program with counseling and advising for student-athletes, offering academic counseling to ensure students receive a complete system of support consistent with university and NCAA policies.

Student-athletes have access to the department's spacious facilities, located in the West Side of Lane Stadium. Opened during the 2006-07 academic year, the SAASS suite, located in the Quillen Family Academic Center, features 16 private tutor rooms, a state-of-the-art classroom, a 18-station computer lab with printer access, a conference room, four quiet areas for reading and studying and a reference library. To accommodate the busy schedules of all of Tech's student-athletes, the SAASS office is open and available for students to access from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. weekdays and Sundays from 6 p.m until 9 p.m. The SAASS office offers a tutor program available to Tech's student-athletes in both individual and group settings. Tutor services are available six days a week and the staff assures options for nearly every subject a student-athlete could request assistance in. The collection of SAASS programs housed in Lane Stadium guarantees that all student-athletes achieve success during their time at Virginia Tech.

Tech's football student-athletes have always seen great success in the classroom much in part to the help of the SAASS office. Academic All-America honorees in past years have included the likes of Danny Coale and Chris Drager. The football team represents over 35 majors across 7 different colleges at Virginia Tech.

25 JERSEY HONOREES

Virginia Tech retired Frank Beamer's No. 25 jersey in 2002. With Beamer's blessing, the Hokies have been paying homage to Tech's legacy of excellence on special teams by selecting a different special teams athlete each week to wear the honorary Beamer 25 jersey since his retirement in 2015.

HOKIES ALL-AMERICANS

VIRGINIA TECH'S UNANIMOUS ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS

JIM PYNE

C · 1993

In 1993, Jim Pyne achieved something even Bruce Smith failed to do — earn unanimous All-America honors. Pyne helped pave the way for an offensive unit that set school season marks for total offense and scoring in 1993. The Hokies averaged 444.1 yards and 36.4 points per game and finished 14th nationally in total offense, 11th in scoring offense and 10th in rushing.

Pyne was named first-team All-America by the AP, UPI, Walter Camp, the Football Writers Association and the Football Coaches Association (Kodak). He was one of the 12 semifinalists for the Lombardi Award, which goes to the nation's top lineman.

In four seasons at Tech, Pyne played more than 2,700 snaps and allowed just one quarterback sack. He started 35 consecutive games and 41 of the 42 games in which he played.

COREY MOORE

DE · 1998, 1999 (UNANIMOUS)

Following an outstanding senior season in 1999, Corey Moore was voted first-team on all six major All-America teams to become the Hokies' second unanimous All-American. He was selected first-team by the AP, the Football Writers Association, the Football Coaches Association, Walter Camp, The Sporting News and Football News.

Moore posted a BIG EAST record 17 sacks during the '99 season to go with 11 other TFLs and 60 total tackles.

He also earned All-America honors in 1998 when he led the BIG EAST with 13.5 sacks. He gained first-team All-America recognition from the Football Coaches Association. Moore was a second-team pick by the AP and The Sporting News and a third-team choice of Football News.

JAKE GROVE

C · 2002, 2003 (UNANIMOUS)

Jake Grove became the third unanimous All-American in Tech football history when he was named to the first team of all five recognized All-America squads: the FWAA, the AFCA, The Sporting News, the Walter Camp Football Foundation and the AP. He was a fourth-team All-American in 2002 (Sporting News).

As a senior, he was named first-team All-BIG EAST and was presented the Rimington Trophy in Lincoln, Neb., honoring the nation's top collegiate center.

In 13 regular season games, Grove graded out at 91.8 percent on over 700 offensive plays and led the offensive line in knockdowns with 48.

He went on to be drafted in the second round by the Oakland Raiders in the 2004 NFL Draft as the first center taken.

JIMMY WILLIAMS

DB · 2005

Jimmy Williams became Tech's fourth unanimous All-American in football history when he was named to the first team of all five recognized All-America squads: the Football Writers Association of America, the American Football Coaches Association, The Sporting News, the Walter Camp Football Foundation and the AP.

As a senior, he was named first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference and was one of three finalists for the Jim Thorpe award, honoring the nation's top collegiate defensive back.

In 13 games, he recorded 44 tackles, including two for loss and a sack, along with 14 quarterback hurries, five pass break ups and an interception.

He went on to be drafted in the second round by the Atlanta Falcons in the 2006 NFL Draft.

THE HOKIES' OTHER FIRST-TEAM SELECTIONS

CARROLL DALE

E · 1959

After earning second-team Associated Press All-America honors as a junior in 1958, Carroll Dale went on to become the first Virginia Tech football player to earn first-team All-America honors following the 1959 season. Dale was named to the Football Writers Association (LOOK Magazine) and Newspaper Enterprise Association first teams as a senior and was once again a second-team choice by the AP. He led Tech in receiving four straight years and finished the '59 season with 17 receptions for 408 yards and six touchdowns.

BOB SCHWEICKERT

QB · 1963, 1964

One of the finest triple-threat quarterbacks in the history of the Southern Conference, Bob Schweickert was named to the LOOK All-America team picked by the Football Writers Association following the 1964 season. Schweickert fought off injuries during the '64 season to rush for 576 yards and nine touchdowns and pass for 833 yards and nine more TDs.

He also handled the punting duties with a 37.7-yard average. As a junior in 1963, Schweickert earned third-team All-America honors from The Associated Press.

FRANK LORIA

S · 1966, 1967 (CONSENSUS)

Safety Frank Loria was the first Tech football player to gain first-team All-America honors in back-to-back seasons and became the Hokies' first consensus All-America pick in 1967. As a junior in 1966, Loria helped Tech to the Liberty Bowl, contributing three interceptions and returning three punts for touchdowns. He was named to first-team A-A squads picked by The Associated Press and the Football Writers Association and was a second-team selection by the Helms Athletic Foundation. Loria was named to six major All-America squads following the 1967 season. He finished the year with three interceptions and 420 yards on punt returns, including a 95-yard return for a TD against Miami. His first-team honors came from the AP, United Press International, NEA, the Football Coaches Association, the Football Writers Association and the Walter Camp Foundation.

MIKE WIDGER

LB · 1968

Mike Widger capped an incredible junior season by earning first-team All-America honors from The Associated Press and the Football Writers Association. Widger compiled a record 825 tackling points and was among the national leaders in pass interceptions (7) and return yardage (203 yards). He returned two of his interceptions for touchdowns and scored another TD after pulling the football loose from a Kansas State running back and racing 46 yards to the end zone.

BRUCE SMITH

DT · 1983, 1984 (CONSENSUS)

Bruce Smith was named to first-team All-America squads picked by the Football Coaches Association and the Newspaper Enterprise Association after registering an incredible 22 quarterback sacks as a junior in 1983. Smith, who also was named to The Associated Press second team that year, finished with a total of 55 tackles, 31 of which were behind the line of scrimmage. As a senior in 1984, Smith accumulated 16 sacks and nine other tackles behind the line. He finished the year with 69 total tackles and was a consensus All-America pick, making first teams selected by the AP, the Football Writers of America, Kodak and Walter Camp.

HOKIES FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS

EUGENE CHUNG
OT • 1991

When Eugene Chung was named to the Football Writers Association All-America team following his senior season, he became the first Tech offensive lineman to win first-team All-America honors. Chung started every game at tackle for the Hokies in 1991, allowing just one quarterback sack in 730 plays. The Washington Gridiron Club honored Chung as the National Lineman of the Year.

CORNELL BROWN
DE • 1995 (CONSENSUS), 1996

Cornell Brown became the first Virginia Tech football player to gain consensus All-America honors as a junior when he was named to five first teams in 1995. Brown was a first-team A-A pick by AP, UPI, the Football Writers Association, The Sporting News and Football News. He finished the year with 103 total tackles, including a BIG EAST-leading 14 sacks. He was selected National Defensive Player of the Year by Football News and was one of five finalists for the Defensive Player of the Year. In 1996, Brown missed three games, but still earned first-team honors from Walter Camp and second-team recognition from AP. He posted eight sacks, five other tackles behind the line, 19 quarterback hurries and 58 total tackles during the '96 season.

BILLY CONATY
C • 1996

Considered one of the top offensive linemen in school history, Billy Conaty saw action on 98 percent of Virginia Tech's offensive plays in 1996 and went on to earn first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News. Conaty helped the Hokies to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Orange Bowl that season, grading a winning percentage in 10 of the 12 games and leading the squad with 65 knockdown blocks. He finished his career by setting an all-time school record for starts and consecutive starts with 48.

MICHAEL VICK
QB • 1999

In a spectacular freshman season that saw him lead Virginia Tech to its first ever 11-0 regular season and its first appearance in the national championship game, Michael Vick became the first Tech freshman football player to earn first-team All-America honors. Vick was named first-team by The Sporting News. He also was a second-team pick by The Associated Press. The redshirt freshman quarterback was third in the voting for the 1999 Heisman Trophy and second in the voting for the AP Player of the Year. Vick led Division I-A in passing efficiency (180.37), setting an NCAA record for a freshman in the process. He completed 59.2 percent of his passes for 1,840 yards and 12 touchdowns. He also contributed 585 yards and eight TDs rushing.

ANDRÉ DAVIS
PR • 2000

André Davis finished the 2000 season second in the Division I-A ranks in punt returns and earned first-team All-America honors on the American Football Coaches Association team as a return specialist. Davis returned 18 punts for 396 yards for a school-record average of 22 yards per return. He tied another school season mark when he returned three punts for touchdowns. His 87-yard TD return against East Carolina was the second-longest in school history.

KEVIN JONES
RB • 2003 (CONSENSUS)

One of the highest-rated recruits ever to sign with Virginia Tech, Kevin Jones rushed for a school-record 1,647 yards, including 241 yards against Pittsburgh, on 281 attempts with 21 touchdowns as a junior in '03. He went on to earn first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News, The Walter Camp Football Foundation, FWAA and AFCA. He was named to the second team by AP.

DARRYL TAPP
DE • 2005

Considered one of the best defensive ends in school history, Darryl Tapp capped an incredible career, earning first-team All-America honors by AFCA and second-team honors by The Associated Press. During his senior season, Tapp, who started all 13 games, recorded team-bests for sacks, tackles for loss and forced fumbles. He recorded 10 sacks, 14.5 tackles for loss and three forced fumbles. Tapp was also fifth on the team in tackles. He won the Dudley Award, given to the state's top player, and was a Lott Trophy finalist.

XAVIER ADIBI
LB • 2007

Xavier Adibi teamed with fellow linebacker Vince Hall throughout his career to form what was arguably the best linebacking duo in school history. Though he enjoyed a breakout season as a junior, Adibi put up eye-popping numbers as a senior on his way to first-team All-America honors from the American Football Coaches Association. He led the team with 115 tackles, including 12 tackles for loss, while chipping in three sacks and two interceptions—one of which he returned for a touchdown. In addition to being named first-team All-ACC, Adibi was also awarded a spot on The Associated Press All-America third team.

BRANDON FLOWERS
CB • 2007

Despite leaving a year early for the NFL, cornerback Brandon Flowers became only the seventh Hokie to be named a two-time All-American when he was placed on the American Football Coaches Association first team after his junior season. He was also named second team by both The Associated Press and the Walter Camp Football Foundation. Flowers was a third-team AP honoree as a sophomore. In 2007, he placed third on the team with 86 tackles from his secondary spot, adding eight tackles for loss in the process. After leading the ACC in 2006 in passes broken up and passes defended, opponents shied away from him as a junior, but he still managed nine breakups, 14 passes defended and a career-high five interceptions.

VICTOR "MACHO" HARRIS
CB • 2008

One of the nation's top cornerbacks, Victor Harris earned first-team All-America honors from Sporting News and was a second-team pick by The Associated Press after a stellar senior season. Harris considered entering the NFL Draft following his junior year, but decided to return, earning his degree along with A-A honors. He tied for 11th nationally in interceptions with six, two of which he returned for touchdowns. A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, he finished fourth in the league in interceptions and passes defended, and third in punt returns. His 15 career interceptions rank third all-time at Tech, while his four career TDs on picks are an all-time record for a Hokie.

JAYRON HOSLEY
CB • 2010

Jayron Hosley tied a 43-year old Virginia Tech season record for interceptions on the way to being selected first-team on the Walter Camp All-America squad. Hosley led the nation in interceptions with nine and tied for third in most passes defended with 17. The sophomore cornerback was also a second-team A-A pick by The Associated Press and earned the National Defensive Back Trophy from the College Football Performance Awards. Hosley was named first team All-ACC after topping the league in both interceptions and passes defended. He also ranked second among ACC players in punt returns.

Ten banners fly above Lane Stadium, honoring the program's national award winners. The latest addition to the group was Bud Foster in 2019, who earned the Broyles Award as the nation's top assistant coach in 2006. Foster retired from the coaching ranks at the conclusion of the 2019 campaign.

NATIONAL HONORS

JAKE GROVE WON THE RIMINGTON TROPHY IN 2003

Jake Grove arrived on the Virginia Tech campus as a lightly recruited guard from Forest, Va. He left as a unanimous All-American, winner of the Rimington Trophy as the nation's top center and a second-round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders.

Heading into his junior season, Grove made the switch over to the center position and became a natural fit. By the time he headed into his final season, he was gaining headlines and recognition for his play. He was rewarded by being named to all five major All-America first teams. He was awarded the Dave Rimington Trophy, given to the nation's top collegiate center.

COREY MOORE EARNED THE LOMBARDI AND NAGURSKI AWARDS IN 1999

In three years on campus, Corey Moore amassed 35 sacks for losses, totaling 292 yards. He left Tech as the most decorated player ever to put on the Hokie uniform. He won the 1999 Bronko Nagurski Award as college football's Defensive Player of the Year. Moore also won the 1999 Lombardi Award as college football's lineman of the year. He became Tech's second-ever unanimous All-American, joining Jim Pyne. Moore won the Dudley Award as the top college player in Virginia, the BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year award and was selected as Football News' Defensive Player of the Year.

MICHAEL VICK WON AN ESPY AS THE NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR IN 1999

When Michael Vick took to the field against James Madison on Sept. 4, 1999, little did people in attendance or watching on television realize they would be witnessing the beginning of the most exciting two years in Virginia Tech football history.

In 1999, Vick led the Hokies to a perfect 11-0 regular season and a berth in the national championship game, both firsts in school history. The Hokies lost that game to Florida State, but all the talk was about the performance the redshirt freshman put on in that game.

For his accomplishments that year, he was awarded an ESPY by ESPN, given to the nation's top college football player.

Vick was awarded the trophy at the ESPY ceremonies on Feb. 14, 2000, in Las Vegas as he mingled with some of sports' all-time greats.

BRUCE SMITH WON THE OUTLAND TROPHY AS THE TOP LINEMAN IN 1984

Bruce Smith, "The Sack Man" of Virginia Tech football, capped his sensational college career in 1984 by winning the Outland Trophy as America's top lineman.

The big announcement was made by Wilt Browning at a press luncheon in Tech's Bowman Room. Browning, a sports columnist of The Greensboro Daily News and a committee member of the Football Writers' Association of America, began by reading a long list of former Outland Trophy winners. He then said, "Add to that list today, the 1984 winner —

Bruce Smith of Virginia Tech."

"The one thing though, that stuck in my mind was the statistic on his tackles for losses," Browning said. "In four years at Virginia Tech, he accounted for losses totaling more than five times the length of a football field (504 yards). That's amazing."

Smith was a consensus All-American and was the first Virginian to win one of the national awards (including the Heisman and the Lombardi).

RETIRED NUMBERS & JERSEYS

84 CARROLL DALE

A native of Wise, Va., Carroll Dale entered Virginia Tech in 1956 as an offensive and defensive end. After seeing varsity action as a reserve in the first game of the '56 season, Dale went on to start the remaining 39 games of his college career and became Tech's first bona fide All-American. As a junior in 1958, he was named the Southern Conference Player of the Year. In 1959, Dale was captain of the Tech team and earned first-team A-A honors. Dale led the Hokies in pass receiving each of his four seasons and finished his Tech career with 67 catches for 1,195 yards and 15 touchdowns. He went on to a pro football career that lasted more than a decade and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1987. His Tech jersey was the first to be retired.

78 BRUCE SMITH

Known as "The Sack Man" of Virginia Tech football, Bruce Smith capped his sensational college career in 1984. As a Tech player, Smith had a career total of 71 tackles behind the line of scrimmage for losses totaling 504 yards. Smith had 46 career quarterback sacks, including 22 during his junior season in 1983 when he was named first-team All-America. In 1984, the Norfolk, Va., native won the Outland Trophy as America's top lineman and was a consensus All-American. Smith was the No. 1 player picked in the 1985 National Football League draft. During his pro career, he established himself as one of the greatest defensive players ever to play the game. He ended his career in 2003 as the NFL's all-time sack leader with 200.

10 FRANK LORIA

Despite his 5-9, 175-pound frame, Frank Loria was one of the most tenacious football players ever to play for Virginia Tech. Loria, who started every game at safety from 1965-67, rapidly established himself as one of Tech's all-time greats. During his junior year, he earned first-team All-American honors. As a senior in 1967, Loria became Tech's first consensus All-American, making seven first-team All-American squads. He finished his Tech career with seven interceptions and a number of punt return records. He went on to coach at Marshall. In 1970, at age 23, he died in an airplane tragedy that claimed the lives of the Marshall football team and staff. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1999. His number was retired prior to the 1971 season.

73 JIM PYNE

Center Jim Pyne became Virginia Tech's first unanimous All-American when he made all five major teams that were selected in 1993. In addition to All-America honors, Pyne was named winner of the Dudley Award as Virginia's Player of the Year. During his four seasons at Tech, he established himself as one of the Hokies' top linemen of all time, leading the charge for the 1993 team that rewrote the school record books for scoring and total offense. Pyne started 35 consecutive games and 41 of the 42 Tech games in which he played. He allowed just one quarterback sack by the man he was assigned to block during more than 2,700 career snaps. Pyne spent nine seasons as an NFL lineman before becoming an assistant coach in the pro ranks.

BEAMER AMONG FIVE WHO HAVE HAD JERSEYS RETIRED

In 2002, the Virginia Tech Athletics Department developed a new policy on retiring football jerseys. This special honor is bestowed to acknowledge an individual who has won an established national award in their sport, while allowing the number to continue to be worn by others. Tech no longer retires numbers. That year, three jerseys were retired in ceremonies. The jerseys of Frank Beamer, Cornell Brown and Michael Vick were the first to be honored. In 2006, Jake Grove had the same honor bestowed upon him. Corey Moore's jersey has been retired since 2010.

Michael Vick · Sept. 1, 2002

of the year awards following
Tech's 1999 season.

Cornell Brown · Nov. 20, 2002
Named 1995 National Defensive Player of the Year
by Football News in 1995.

Jake Grove · Sept. 23, 2006
Winner of the 2003 Rimington
Trophy, given to the nation's top collegiate center.

Corey Moore · Oct. 23, 2010
Won Lombardi and Nagurski
Awards in 1999.

Virginia Tech All-America performer and Pro Bowl CB Brandon Flowers returned to campus in June to address the team and share some of the experiences and wisdom he accumulated during his career. Current Tech corners Jermaine Waller (left) and Dorian Strong (right) are two players on the current roster who aspire to eventually follow in the footsteps of Flowers, who was a second-round pick of the Kansas City Chiefs in the 2008 NFL Draft.

GAME SUMMARY

The University of Cincinnati Bearcats scored three second-half touchdowns to defeat Virginia Tech 18-6 at Kidd Field. The game, played in freezing conditions, marked Tech's first bowl appearance and the first bowl game in which a football team from the commonwealth of Virginia had participated. The Hokies trailed 12-0 before scoring their lone touchdown on a 3-yard run by Ralph Beard on fourth-and-goal. A Cincinnati interception, though, set up a 3-yard touchdown run by Don McMillan to put the game away for the Bearcats.

GAME SUMMARY

Miami jumped out to a 14-0 lead and held on to defeat the Hokies 20-10 at Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium. The Hokies cut a 14-0 deficit to 14-10 on a 1-yard touchdown run by Cyrus Lawrence in the third quarter, but got no closer, as Miami added field goals late in the third quarter and midway through the fourth quarter to seal the game. Lawrence rushed for 134 yards and Ashley Lee had 15 tackles in defeat for Tech.

GAME SUMMARY

Quarterback Bart Weiss got Air Force's wishbone attack going in the second half and led the Falcons to a 23-7 victory over Virginia Tech at Independence Stadium. Tech took a 7-3 lead in the first quarter on a 10-play, 72-yard drive that ended with a 3-yard touchdown run by Maurice Williams, but the game changed midway through the second quarter when the Falcons forced and recovered a fumble at the Tech 3. Halfback Jody Simmons took a pitchout to the left and put Air Force ahead for good. The turnover was one of four for the Hokies, as Air Force used its ground attack to control the clock. The Falcons rushed for 221 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech scored two touchdowns in the final 35 seconds of the first half to spark an unforgettable 45-20 victory over Indiana at Independence Stadium. The Hokies' Lawrence Lewis returned a fumble 20 yards for a touchdown to give Tech a 21-13 lead with less than 35 seconds to go in the first half. Indiana got to the Tech 42 on the ensuing possession and lined up to try a field goal, but the Hokies blocked it and Antonio Banks returned it 80 yards for a touchdown. That gave the Hokies a 28-13 halftime lead and they never looked back. Tech quarterback Maurice DeShazo threw two touchdown passes in the win.

Quick-striking Tennessee got off to a big early lead and went on to defeat Virginia Tech 45-23 at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium on the University of Florida campus. Tech backed itself into a corner early, throwing an interception on the game's second play. The Volunteers kept the Hokies there with a variety of big plays that resulted in a 35-10 halftime advantage. Overall, Tennessee had seven plays of 20 or more yards and a total of 495 yards of offense. James Stewart had three rushing touchdowns for the Volunteers, while Peyton Manning threw a touchdown pass. Tech's Dwayne Thomas paced the Hokies with 102 yards rushing and a score.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech scored one of the most stirring victories in the university's athletics history when it came from behind to defeat Texas 28-10 at the Superdome. Tech spotted the favored Longhorns a 10-0 lead and then race back behind the play of flanker Bryan Still, who returned a punt 60 yards for a Tech touchdown with 2:34 left in the first half, caught a 27-yard pass from quarterback Jim Druckenmiller at the Texas 2-yard line to set up a touchdown run by Marcus Parker that put the Hokies ahead 14-10, and got behind the Texas defenders to haul in a 54-yard touchdown pass from Druckenmiller. That play spelled doom for the Longhorns and helped earn Still the game's MVP award.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech's second venture into Bowl Alliance territory wasn't as successful as the first, as the Hokies fell 41-21 to power-packed Nebraska at Pro Player Stadium. Nebraska out-gained Tech by just seven yards, 415 to 408, and managed to lead by only three points with less than one minute remaining in the third quarter. In the end, it was the Nebraska depth that wore down the Hokies. Tech quarterback Jim Druckenmiller threw three touchdown passes and Ken Oxendine rushed for 150 yards on 20 carries in the loss.

GAME SUMMARY

In a breathtaking game, Tech rallied from a 21-point first-half deficit to take the lead from Florida State going into the fourth quarter. But the Hokies simply couldn't overcome their mistakes nor the big plays of the Seminoles, and as a result, FSU walked off the field with a 46-29 Sugar Bowl victory and the national title at the Superdome. The Hokies trailed 28-7, but took a 29-28 lead on Michael Vick's 3-yard touchdown run with 37 seconds left in the third. The Seminoles scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, though, to pull away. Vick finished with 323 of the Hokies' 503 yards of total offense.

GAME SUMMARY

Despite 158 yards receiving from André Davis in the final game of his career, Virginia Tech couldn't hold off the big-play capabilities of Florida State, falling to the Seminoles 30-17 at Alltel Stadium. A 55-yard touchdown pass from Tech quarterback Grant Noel to Davis with 40 seconds left in the third quarter gave the Hokies a 17-13 lead. The Seminoles, though, scored on passing plays of 77 and 23 yards in the fourth quarter to pull away. Noel threw for 269 yards in the loss.

GAME SUMMARY

The Virginia Tech Hokies twice rallied from 11-point deficits and scored 22 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to knock off Louisville 35-24 at Alltel Stadium. Tech trailed 24-13 in the fourth quarter, but a Cedric Humes touchdown run and a two-point conversion cut the deficit to 24-21. Then following a Louisville turnover, Tech's Marcus Vick threw a touchdown pass to Jeff King that enabled the Hokies to take the lead. James Anderson's interception return for a score sealed the win for Tech. Humes rushed for 113 yards and the touchdown in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech jumped out to a 21-3 halftime lead, but the Hokies' second-half turnovers proved costly, as Georgia scored 28 unanswered points in the final 30 minutes to knock off Tech 31-24 at the Georgia Dome. The Hokies jumped out to the 18-point halftime lead thanks to two 1-yard touchdown runs by tailback Branden Ore and a 53-yard pass from receiver Eddie Royal to tight end Sam Wheeler on a trick play. But Tech turned the ball over four times in the second half and three of those turnovers led to 18 Georgia points. The Hokies finished with just 189 yards of offense.

The Hokies dominated the final 30 minutes by using Ryan Williams' rushing and yet another powerful second-half defensive performance to roll past Tennessee 37-14 at the Georgia Dome. Tech's defense did not allow a point in the second half for the fifth straight game and allowed just 112 yards of offense in the final 30 minutes – 43 of that coming in Vols' final drive with the outcome well in hand. The defense also recorded six sacks. Williams rushed for 117 yards and two touchdowns, breaking Tech's single-season rushing record of 1,647 yards set by former tailback Kevin Jones in 2003. Williams finished the season with 1,655 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

Michigan kicker Brendan Gibbons booted a game-winning 37-yard field goal in overtime, as the Wolverines knocked off Virginia Tech 23-20 in a wild Sugar Bowl at the Superdome. Tech lost the coin flip in overtime and Michigan decided to play defense first. On third-and-5 from the Michigan 20, Tech quarterback Logan Thomas appeared to have thrown a touchdown pass to receiver Danny Coale in the corner of the end zone. Officials originally ruled the play a touchdown, but reviewed it, and then reversed the call, saying Coale didn't maintain control of the ball. Tech's defense only gave up 184 yards in the game, but turnovers and penalties kept the Wolverines in the game.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech kicker Cody Journell drilled a 22-yard field goal in overtime, and Rutgers kicker Nick Borgese misfired from 42-yards out on the Scarlet Knights' possession, enabling the Hokies to rally for a 13-10 overtime victory at the Florida Citrus Bowl. Tech entered the fourth quarter down 10-0, but a 25-yard field goal from Journell cut the Rutgers lead to 10-3 with 12:14 left in the game. Then, moments later, cornerback Antone Exum intercepted a pass and returned it 32 yards to the Rutgers 21. That put the Hokies in perfect field position with 11:11 remaining and they tied the game on a 21-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Logan Thomas to Corey Fuller. Tech's defense held Rutgers' offense without a touchdown and allowed just 196 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

J.C. Coleman set a Virginia Tech bowl record for rushing yards and Joey Slye booted four field goals as the Hokies wrapped up the 2014 season with a 33-17 win over the University of Cincinnati at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium. Coleman was named MVP after running for 157 yards and a touchdown on 25 carries. The 157 yards set a new Tech bowl record for yards, surpassing Kevin Jones and Darren Evans, who each ran for 153 yards in a game. Slye's four field goals tied the school record for made field goals in a bowl game. Justin Myer hit four field goals in the 2012 Sugar Bowl against Michigan. Tech's defense allowed 489 yards of UC offense, but had two interceptions and clamped down in big situations to thwart drives.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech made the final game for its head coach a memorable one, beating Tulsa 55-52 at Independence Stadium. The win marked the final one for Frank Beamer, who decided in November to retire at the conclusion of the season after 29 seasons as the Hokies' head coach. Tech's players doused Beamer as he walked across the field to shake the hands of Tulsa coach Philip Montgomery. The Hokies led 55-37 with 11 minutes remaining and held on, getting a sack from Dadi Nicolas on Tulsa's final drive to seal the game. Tech receiver Isaiah Ford caught 12 passes for 227 yards, both bowl records for the Hokies, and Travon McMillian rushed for two of the Hokies' five touchdowns in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech quarterback Jerod Evans accounted for four second-half touchdowns and Tech's defense forced four turnovers in the second half, as the No. 22 Hokies rallied from a 24-0 halftime deficit to knock off Arkansas 35-24 in the Belk Bowl. The Hokies' 24-point rally was the biggest since 1987 and believed to be the biggest in school history. Tech turned the ball over twice in the first half, and the Razorbacks scored 10 points off of those – part of their 24-point barrage. But Tech's Chuck Clark arguably turned the game, forcing a fumble on Arkansas' first possession of the second half. Woody Baron recovered for the Hokies, and Evans scored on a 4-yard run for Tech's first score of the game. Arkansas turned it over four times in the second half – and the Hokies scored touchdowns after every one of them. A Tremaine Edmunds interception led to a 5-yard touchdown pass from Evans to tight end Chris Cunningham with 4 minutes left in the third quarter that cut the lead to 24-21. Tech took its first lead of the game on a 6-yard touchdown run by Travon McMillian with 12:03 left in the game. The Hokies then iced it when Terrell Edmunds' interception led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Evans with 6:41 remaining that accounted for the final margin.

GAME SUMMARY

Two touchdown passes thrown by Mason Rudolph in the second half pushed Oklahoma State to the, 30-21, victory over Virginia Tech. Tech went into the fourth quarter trailing, 14-27. Josh Jackson found the endzone on a 5 yd run to cut the lead to just six points with 5:40 to go in the game. OSU kicker, Matt Ammendola, hit a 38 yd FG with 2:34 left in action, on a 10 play drive that took valuable minutes off the clock, giving OSU a, 30-21, advantage. The Hokies would go from its own 18 yd line down the field to Oklahoma State's 27 for one last opportunity. Tech would come up short, turning the ball over on downs with 11 seconds to go in the game. Virginia Tech accumulated more total yards of offense with 518 yards to Oklahoma State's 488 despite the OSU victory.

GAME SUMMARY

Kentucky quarterback Lynn Bowden Jr. threw a touchdown pass to Josh Ali with 15 seconds left to push the Wildcats past Virginia Tech 37-30 in the 2019 Belk Bowl.

Virginia Tech took a 30-24 lead on a 27-yard field goal by Brian Johnson with 12:47 remaining, but the Wildcats answered with their game-winning drive after taking possession following a Tech punt with 8:25 remaining. Kentucky marched 85 yards in 18 plays, converting twice on fourth down and scoring on Bowden's 13-yard touchdown pass to Ali. The Wildcats made the extra point to take a 31-30 lead.

Tech tailback Deshawn McCleese paced the Hokies, rushing for a career-high 126 yards and scored on a 43-yard run in the third quarter, while Hendon Hooker completed 12 of 22 for 110 yards and two scores.

GAME SUMMARY

Tarheeb Still returned a punt 92 yards for a touchdown, Taulia Tagovailoa threw touchdown passes of 70 and 32 yards to Darryl Jones, and the sudden scores sparked Maryland to a 54-10 victory over Virginia Tech in the Pinstripe Bowl on Wednesday.

The game belonged to Tagovailoa, an Alabama transfer and younger brother of Miami Dolphins QB Tua Tagovailoa. He threw for 265 yards and the two TD passes brought his season total to 26, which tied Maryland's single-season record.

The game's MVP, Tagovailoa helped the Terrapins (7-6) get the better of the Hokies at Yankee Stadium. In the second quarter, Tagovailoa connected with Jones for the deep play and a 14-3 lead.

Tagovailoa hit Jones again in the third quarter for a 34-10 lead that helped send the Terps to their first bowl win since 2010.

Jones, a senior wide receiver, had never caught a touchdown pass over his first 40 games. He had two and finished with 111 yards receiving against the Hokies (6-7).

Antwain Littleton II added a 4-yard rushing TD for Maryland and Joseph Petrino answered the Hokies' lone touchdown with a 44-yard field goal with 59 seconds left in the first half for a 24-10 lead. Roman Hemby scored on a 2-yard run in the third quarter.

The Hokies' signature "Enter Sandman" song rang out before the game - the Metallica classic was usually played near the end of games at Yankee Stadium - and had fans and players jumping on another chilly Pinstripe Bowl game day.

The Terrapins never let up, playing nothing like a team that lost six of seven in one stretch. Virginia Tech QB Connor Blumrick fumbled in the fourth quarter and Greg Rose scooped the loose ball and ran 11 yards for a touchdown and a 47-10 lead.

Coby McDonald capped the scoring with a 20-yard run that made it 54-10 and wrapped coach Mike Locksley's first bowl win over seven seasons and two programs.

The Hokies returned the favor in the Pinstripe Bowl and wore the interlocking "NY" on their helmets.

The winner of the Pinstripe Bowl receives the George M. Steinbrenner Trophy.

"He's here in spirit. This game is all about him," Levine said of the late Yankees owner.

FRANK BEAMER INTRODUCTORY NEWS CONFERENCE

Virginia Tech fans are still beaming about their new Peach Bowl victory over N.C. State. But if such postseason success is to continue, it will be up to Frank Beamer.

Two days before Christmas, Beamer, 40, was named Tech's successor to head football coach Bill Dooley. And from the look of his credentials, it could be a prized gift for the Hokies.

—Chris Colston, Hokie Huddler,
Jan. 6, 1987 issue

FRANK BEAMER'S FIRST PRACTICE

"The players have treated me fairly. I'm a big person on trust, and I think you build relationships over time and not just on a few practices. I hope our relationship will grow tighter and tighter as time goes on."

—Frank Beamer, Hokie Huddler,
April 21, 1987 issue

ACCEPTANCE OF THE 1993 INDEPENDENCE BOWL INVITATION

The Hokies thrashed the Orangemen 45-24 before a season-high crowd of 44,722 at Lane Stadium. The win also gave Frank Beamer his most wins — seven — as head coach at his alma mater.

More importantly, Independence Bowl Chairman Mike McCarthy extended the Hokies an invitation to play in Shreveport on Dec. 31. The team accepted in a meeting held at 4:30 p.m.

—Chris Colston, Hokie Huddler,
Nov. 15, 1993 issue

1995 SUGAR BOWL VICTORY OVER TEXAS

The Hokies closed their finest season in their 103-year football history with an improbable 10-game winning streak that came on the heels of an ugly 0-2 start. Despite that streak and a co-BIG EAST championship, many questioned whether Tech, 2-8-1 just four years ago, belonged in a major bowl. There should be no questions after Sunday's dominant defensive performance.

—David Teel, The Daily Press, Jan. 1, 1996

“Frank Beamer has been one of the icons, in my mind, in this era of coaching. He has a fantastic record at Virginia Tech and been there a long, long time. He's one of the great guys in our profession. I've always admired him as a coach, but also the professional character that he always carries himself with and the way he treats other people.”

Alabama head coach Nick Saban

“Frank Beamer is, has been and will remain a beacon of light for college football. Not only a great career at Virginia Tech, but most importantly, a tremendous leader and model for the young men in his program and his personal family. He has guided so many to become successful in life through a value system much needed to today's society. A sincere and caring family man, Frank has brought that feeling to the entirety of his university.”

Kansas State head coach Bill Snyder

COLLEGE GAMEDAY VISITS FOR THE FIRST TIME

Tech fans certainly got excited over the arrival of Chris Fowler, Kirk Herbstreit and the infamous Lee Corso—the trio who made up College Gameday. Between 12,000–13,000 fans packed the press box side of Lane Stadium just to yell and scream and be on television.

1999 COACH OF THE YEAR AWARDS

This season was a season of firsts for Tech's 53-year-old head coach. He was named Region I Coach of the Year as voted on by the American Football Coaches Association. He's speaking at the prestigious Heisman Trophy Award dinner next week. He became one of just a handful of coaches nationwide ever to lead a team to an unbeaten regular season. And then there's this little matter of playing for the national title.

CONGRATULATORY CALL FROM PRESIDENT BILL CLINTON

Tech coach Frank Beamer received a postgame phone call from President Bill Clinton following the Hokies' 46-29 loss to Florida State in the national championship game. He congratulated Tech on a stellar effort and a great season.

FRANK BEAMER TURNS DOWN NORTH CAROLINA TO STAY IN BLACKSBURG

"It was certainly nothing against North Carolina. Everything and everyone was very gracious, and I appreciate it. But when you get away a little bit, you realize how special this place is and the relationships that we have at this place. And the excitement and the fans that we have at this place ... there's just so many things. I know the grass looks greener sometimes. But when you sit back and look, you can see how green the grass is here."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com the newspaper, Dec. 8, 2000 issue

2004 ACC COACH OF THE YEAR HONOR

It came as little surprise that, the week after the Miami game, Tech coach Frank Beamer earned the ACC's Coach of the Year honor. It also came as little surprise that he received SI.com's national Coach of the Year honor. He deserved it. But while the awards reflect on him, they also reflect on his staff. Truthfully, they did their best coaching job this season.

—Jimmy Robertson, hokiesports the newspaper, Dec. 17, 2004 issue.

“When people think of Hokie football, they think of Frank Beamer. It was an honor to have competed against you and I want to wish you and your wife, Cheryl, and your children and grandchildren all the best during your next adventure. Congratulations.”

Former Boston College AND N.Y. Giants head coach Tom Coughlin

TECH RETIRES FRANK BEAMER'S NO. 25 JERSEY

“I'm certainly not the athlete the rest of those guys hanging up there are. But this place has been special ... for me. It's been a dream to be in this position. It's a real honor for me.”

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports the newspaper, Sept. 20, 2002 issue

“I remember him sitting on my couch, the smile he had on his face, the enthusiasm and him really impressing my mom with his delivery. That was special because he made her smile and made me believe that he wanted me in that moment, and for him to take his time to come down there was really a special moment.”

Former Virginia Tech QB Michael Vick

FRANK BEAMER NOTCHES FIRST WIN OVER BOBBY BOWDEN

Shortly before the final seconds ticked off, a few of Tech's players dumped a cooler filled with water over Beamer, and while Tech's longtime head coach downplayed the victory over the Seminoles from a personal standpoint, his smiles on the sideline at the end of the game spoke to the contrary.

2009 ORANGE BOWL VICTORY OVER CINCINNATI

The Orange Bowl championship trophy is likely the biggest—and heaviest—that Virginia Tech has ever won.

It took two managers and a pushcart to get the massive trophy and glass bowl into the lobby of head coach Frank Beamer's office—and that's after the real oranges were replaced with hollow plastic replicas.

—Bill Roth, Inside Hokie Sports, January, 2009 issue

2009 CHICK-FIL-A BOWL VICTORY OVER TENNESSEE

New Year's Eve in Atlanta features the annual ritual of dropping an oversized replica of a peach to commemorate the New Year. This year, the ritual also featured the Virginia Tech football team dropping the hammer on Tennessee.

Behind a punishing defense and the typical running of Ryan Williams, the Hokies closed 2009 by caging ol' Smokey and knocking the Volunteers off Rocky Top in a 37-14 rout in the Chick-fil-A Bowl at the Georgia Dome.

—Jimmy Robertson, Inside Hokie Sports, January, 2010 issue

HOKIES' 2010 ACC TITLE WIN OVER FLORIDA STATE

Beamer's 24th team pulled off one of the great turnarounds we've ever seen. The 2010 Virginia Tech Hokies were the first team in NCAA history to lose their first two ball games and then win 11 straight. It had never happened before.

—Bill Roth, Inside Hokie Sports, December, 2010 issue

HOKIES' 2014 WIN AT OHIO STATE

"I still remember going to Nebraska and winning and going to Texas A&M and winning. That's been a few years back. But this is good. I think those things go in cycles a little bit. When you play good teams like we play, you've got about a 50-50 shot of winning, and when you go on the road, it probably goes down a little bit. I think this is a big, big win for the status of our program."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Sept. 7, 2014

FRANK BEAMER ANNOUNCES PLANS TO RETIRE

Beamer is fond of saying that he is fortunate and grateful. And he undoubtedly is. We all are, in fact. We all got to be a part of it. We all got to actually experience it — me, for just a short time, which will fortunately allow me to be a bridge when I talk of the Beamer way. For many of you, for much longer, which will only strengthen your conviction when you speak, as well.

—Jon Laaser, Inside Hokie Sports, December, 2015 issue

HOKIES BEAT VIRGINIA 23-20 IN FRANK BEAMER'S FINAL REGULAR-SEASON GAME

"That game showed everything we've tried to do at Virginia Tech. Relentless—I love that word—we got down and found a way to come back. We got it at the end. We did some good things in the kicking game, getting field position. The defense played great, and the offense made plays. Everything that we talk about—hanging in there, don't give in, play your best when it counts—that kind of came through today."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Nov. 28, 2015

HOKIES WIN INDEPENDENCE BOWL OVER TULSA IN FINAL GAME OF FRANK BEAMER'S CAREER

"I've got a lot to look forward to. My grandkids, I've got a wonderful wife—I'm not sure she's all for it, but we're going to spend a lot of time together now—and then I've got some things that I'm interested in doing in the future. The next challenge, I look forward to it. I realize how fortunate I've been to have lasted this long at Virginia Tech. All I am is grateful and looking forward to taking the next step."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Dec. 27, 2015

SPRING ROAD BECOMES BEAMER WAY BEFORE FRANK'S FINAL SEASON

"When I was informed of this, I had two immediate thoughts. First, the appreciation I have for all of the players, coaches, support staff and fans that laid the foundation for this program. And secondly, I hope the 'Beamer Way' is the right way! When people see that sign, I hope they can be proud of what it represents."

—Frank Beamer

TEAM UNITED LOCKER ROOM IN HONOR OF FRANK BEAMER

In March of 2016, the Board of Visitors decided more recognition of Beamer was warranted. The group approved the renaming of the football program's Team United Locker Room to The Frank Beamer Locker Room to honor Beamer for his years of service and contributions to the university and the game of football.

BEAMER MONUMENT UNVEILED IN 2018

Prior to Virginia Tech's contest against Notre Dame on Oct. 6, 2018, a monument of Frank Beamer was unveiled in Moody Plaza, located on the Southwest corner outside of Lane Stadium. Unlike other monuments honoring iconic figures, the tribute to Beamer is devoid of any pedestal and is very approachable, just like the man himself. At halftime of the game, the Hokies' indoor practice facility was officially named the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility. John Lawson, a Virginia Tech alum, delivered a significant leadership gift for the project and is the executive chairman of the W.M. Jordan Company who designed and constructed the facility.

FROM FANCY GAP TO THE HALL OF FAME

When Beamer stands on that stage Tuesday night, he will thank a bunch of people. Time will not permit the recitation of each individual name, but rest assured, he views his induction into the College Football Hall of Fame as something much bigger than him. In other words, the crowning achievement is for everyone, not just him.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Frank Beamer, the first Tech alumnus to guide the Hokies' football program since the 1940s, won more games at Tech than any other head football coach. Prior to Beamer, no other gridiron coach in Virginia Tech history had served more than 10 seasons as head coach. Beamer was also the most-tenured active FBS head coach, having been at his current school consecutively longer than any other coach in the nation at the time of his retirement.

With a victory in the Independence Bowl, Beamer led the Hokies to 23 straight bowl games, making him one of four coaches all-time in college football history to accomplish that feat.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF COACH BEAMER AND HIS STAFF, THE HOKIES ...

- played for the national championship for the first time in school history.
- became the only school to go to bowl games each of the last 23 seasons (longest active streak per NCAA).
- became one of only six programs in college football history to go to a bowl in at least 20 straight years, Nebraska (35), Michigan (33), Florida State (24), Alabama (25), Tech (23; active) and Florida (22).
- earned seven conference titles and eight "major" bowl bids in a 23-year span.
- became one of only four teams in the history of the Division I level to produce 10 or more wins eight seasons or more in a row.
- compiled a school-record streak in the Associated Press Top 25 Poll at 84 consecutive weeks.
- posted 11 wins in a season for the first time.
- registered the program's first back-to-back 11-win seasons.
- produced the school's first 11-0 regular-season record in football.
- won Sugar Bowl and Orange Bowl titles.
- won four Atlantic Coast Conference titles.
- won an ACC Championship in their first season of competition.
- played in five ACC Championship games.
- produced the ACC Coach of the Year and Player of the Year during their inaugural ACC season.
- became the first team in BIG EAST history to win all the league's major awards in the same season.
- earned the highest national rankings in school football history, including five top-10 finishes and back-to-back top-six finishes.
- won more games (238) than under any other coaching staff in school history.
- been to five times as many bowl games (23) than under any other staff.
- won more bowl games (11) than under any other coaching staff.
- posted 23 straight seasons of seven or more wins for the first time in school history.
- had 244 of their last 271 games televised (90 percent).
- compiled a 174-70 record in televised games since the start of the 1995 season.
- blocked more kicks in the 1990s than any other Division I-A team.
- become one of only eight FBS schools ever to lead the nation in both scoring offense and defense in the same season.
- had at least one player from every defensive position score a touchdown.
- produced a No. 1 pick in the National Football League draft.
- had 95 players taken in the NFL Draft and more than 200 players sign with NFL teams.
- had two players who entered the program as walk-ons drafted in the top four rounds of the NFL draft.
- had 19 different players earn AP All-America honors over the past 18 seasons.
- had players win 16 major conference individual awards in the past 18 years, including three in 2011.

FRANK BEAMER'S

COACHING 'FOREST'

BLACKSBURG AND BEYOND

Some coaches have developed trees with multiple branches. A virtual forest of current high school, collegiate and professional coaches have either played for, or coached with Frank Beamer, including many who have done both. That coaching list also includes a number of Tech players who played for Beamer's longtime defensive coordinator, Bud Foster, in Blacksburg. Here are just a few members of this coaching fraternity.

Current head coach
Brent Pry returned to Blacksburg after serving as defensive coordinator/linebackers coach at Penn State. He worked as a graduate assistant for Frank Beamer and Bud Foster in 1995-97.

After concluding a successful NFL playing career, Nick Sorensen has gone on to coach in the NFL ranks and currently serves as a defensive assistant for the San Francisco 49ers.

J.C. Price returned to Blacksburg in 2021 and currently serves as assistant head coach/defensive line coach. His final game in a Tech uniform was a 28-10 win vs. Texas in the 1995 Sugar Bowl.

Caleb Farley was a first-round pick of Tennessee in the 2021 NFL Draft. His secondary coach with the Titans is Anthony Midget, who lettered for the Hokies from 1996-99.

Cody Grimm entered the NFL as a fourth-round pick of Tampa Bay in 2010. Last season he was part of a Buccaneers' coaching staff that guided the club to a victory in Super Bowl LV. Grimm currently coaches safeties for Jacksonville.

Sam Rogers came to Tech as a walk-on after playing quarterback at Hanover (Virginia) High School. Rogers is now back at Hanover HS, serving as head coach.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Respected as one of the nation's top coaching minds and one of college football's most decorated defensive coordinators, Foster concluded his storied coaching career at Virginia Tech in 2019.
- Will be inducted into the Murray State Athletics Hall of Fame in 2022.
- The architect of Tech's famed Lunch Pail Defense, Foster was the longest continually tenured FBS assistant coach at the same school at the time of his retirement.
- Was elevated to the post of associate head coach in 2016 after enjoying a historic 29-season run under Frank Beamer that began in 1987.
- Held the distinction of serving as Tech's defensive signal caller since 1995 (as co-coordinator) before taking over sole possession of defensive coordinator duties in 1996.
- Served as a key component in helping the Hokies register the nation's longest active bowl streak recognized by the NCAA, a 27-year stretch that began in 1993.
- Beginning in 1995, the Hokies began a stretch where the program produced 13 seasons with 10 or more victories during a 17-season span.
- Won the 2006 Broyles Award, given annually to the top assistant coach in the country, and was a finalist on three other occasions (1999, 2001, 2005).
- Named the Division I-A Defensive Coordinator of the Year by American Football Coach magazine after helping the Hokies to the 1999 national championship game on the strength of a defense that led the nation in scoring defense at 10.5 ppg.
- His defenses led the nation in a major defensive statistical category nine times and have placed in the top five 44 different times.
- From 2000-19, only Alabama (27) pitched more shutouts than Tech (22).
- Foster's 2017 defense led the nation in opponent completion percentage (48.60%), was second on third downs (26.2), fourth in scoring defense (14.8 ppg) and were fifth in first downs allowed (290).

- Virginia Tech finished in the top five in scoring defense on seven different occasions under Foster. In addition to ranking fourth in 2017, Tech led the nation in both 1999 and 2006, while ranking second in 2001, 2004 and 2005. The Hokies registered six straight top 10 finishes in scoring defense from 2004-09.
- The Hokies led the nation in total defense in both 2005 and 2006, while ranking second in 2001.
- His 2006 defense was arguably one of Virginia Tech's finest as the Hokies led the nation in scoring defense (11.0 ppg), total defense (219.5 ypg) and pass defense (128.2 ypg).
- Since Foster took over sole reins as Tech's defensive coordinator in 1996 and ranging through the 2019 campaign, the Hokies led all FBS programs in sacks (894.0), sack yardage (-6,110) and third-down percentage (31.6), while ranking second in INTs (394).
- Over that same span, only Alabama (16.4 ppg) and Ohio State (16.9 ppg) were better in scoring than Virginia Tech (18.4).
- The Hokies registered 48 INT return TDs from 1996-2019. Only Florida (50) owned more over that period.
- Thanks to his opportunistic defenses, Virginia Tech owned an unbelievable +119 turnover differential (634 takes/515 gives) from 1996-2019, while 55 different defensive players scoring a total of 83 touchdowns.
- Blacksburg has truly become a no-passing zone under his direction. Since the start of the 1996 campaign through 2019, Tech permitted the lowest completion percentage (51.0) of any FBS team.
- Only Florida (107.0), Ohio State (107.3) and LSU (108.3) opponents to a lower composite passer rating than VT (108.5) from 1996-2019.
- Going back to 1996 NFL Draft, 45 of his defensive pupils have been drafted including 11 players picked in the first or second rounds. Seven of those 11 first or second-round selections have been defensive backs, including a trio of first rounders in CBs Kyle Fuller (D1-14, Chicago), DeAngelo Hall (D1-04, Atlanta) and S Terrell Edmunds (D1-18, Pittsburgh).
- Coached three of the four Fuller brothers – Vinnie, Kyle and Kendall – part of the only quartet of brothers in NFL history to all be drafted and all attend the same college.

- Kyle Fuller authored an exceptional campaign in 2018, earning All-Pro honors and a trip to the Pro Bowl after tying for the NFL lead with seven INTs and helping guide Chicago to an NFC North title. He followed that up with another Pro Bowl campaign in 2019.
- Meanwhile, younger brother Kendall was an instrumental part of a Chiefs squad that reached the 2018 AFC Championship Game. Then, Fuller made the game-sealing interception in Super Bowl LIV as the Chiefs won their first World Championship in 50 years in 2019.
- Coached two of the three Edmunds brothers – Tremaine and Terrell – the only pair of brothers to both be selected in the first round of the same NFL Draft.
- Both Edmunds brothers earned starting roles as NFL rookies in 2018. Tremaine became the youngest player in league history to register an interception, while Terrell had one INT and 78 tackles for Pittsburgh. Tremaine has earned a pair of Pro Bowl berths for the Bills.
- Hall earned three Pro Bowl berths during his pro career, while fifth-round pick Kam Chancellor has earned a Super Bowl ring, appeared in two Super Bowls and been named to four Pro Bowl squads with Seattle.
- Three of Foster's players - DT Tim Settle, CB Greg Stroman and CB Adonis Alexander - were drafted by Washington in 2018.
- Postseason honors have become synonymous with the Hokies' defense with at least one defensive player earning All-America honors of some form in 18 different seasons.
- Under Foster, Virginia Tech produced its first Lombardi Award winner and its first Nagurski Trophy winner in Corey Moore.
- The Hokies have also two BIG EAST defensive players of the year during Foster's tenure – Moore, who earned the honor in both 1998 and 1999, and Cornell Brown, who won it in 1995. Brown would later earn a Super Bowl ring with the Baltimore Ravens.
- Began his career as a GA at Murray State (1981-82) before eventually making the move with Beamer to Blacksburg in 1987.

VT UNIVERSITY & MEDIA INFORMATION

ABOUT VIRGINIA TECH

Dedicated to its motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve), Virginia Tech pushes the boundaries of knowledge by taking a hands-on, transdisciplinary approach to preparing scholars to be leaders and people who solve problems.

A comprehensive land-grant institution that enhances the quality of life in Virginia and throughout the world, Virginia Tech is an inclusive community dedicated to knowledge, discovery, and creativity. Virginia Tech offers the widest range of degree choices in Virginia to more than 37,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students on all its campuses.

Virginia Tech has a significant presence across Virginia, including numerous Extension offices and research centers. In Northern Virginia, the university is developing a 1 million-square-foot Innovation Campus that will become a global center of talent production and technology excellence. In Roanoke, the Fralin Biomedical Research Institute at VTC and the Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine are a part of the emerging Health Sciences and Technology Campus. The main campus is in Blacksburg, Virginia, while the university's international presence is anchored by the Steger Center for International Scholarship in Riva San Vitale, Switzerland. Other sites are in Newport News, Richmond, and Abingdon.

Offering approximately 280 undergraduate and graduate degree programs, Virginia Tech has eight undergraduate colleges, a school of medicine, a veterinary medicine college, Graduate School, and Honors College. Inside and outside of the classroom, in living-learning communities and in its Corps of Cadets, and in collaboration across academic disciplines, Virginia Tech students engage in experiential learning.

In Virginia Tech's transdisciplinary communities called Destination Areas, scholars seek to address complex global challenges that cross traditional academic boundaries. Taking students to the next level by helping them solve real-world problems, Tech professors have a reputation for imagining the next great thing—from blind-driver cars to energy-conscious homes—and then making it happen.

A leading global research institution, Virginia Tech conducts more than $550 million in research each year (the FY20 total was $556 million). The university boasts world-class research institutes and facilities—such as the Smart Road transportation research testbed, and the Cube, a four-story theater and laboratory in the Moss Arts Center. The LINK+LICENSE+LAUNCH team, a one-stop shop for industry partners from discovery to market, is dedicated to streamlining all aspects of corporate partnerships, from research collaborations to corporate giving to technology commercialization and startups.

Founded in 1872, Virginia Tech is celebrating 150 years of impact and engagement from fall 2021 through 2022. The Sesquicentennial Celebration explores Virginia Tech's past, present, and future through the lens of three cross-cutting themes: solve problems, extend knowledge, and create and engage communities.

Guided by its Principles of Community, the university is dedicated to increasing access, inclusion, and diversity to create a community that nurtures learning and growth for all its members.

The desire to serve is deeply ingrained in Virginia Tech's learning, discovery, and engagement. More than a motto, Ut Prosim is a value system that guides students' decisions and helps mold them into responsible citizens of the world.

AT A GLANCE

INTERESTING FACTS & FIGURES

- Supporters gave a record $200.3 million in new gifts and commitments to the university in FY21, and Virginia Tech is on pace to achieve its $1.5 billion goal for Boundless Impact: The Campaign for Virginia Tech, which is expected to run through 2027. Reach for Excellence, the most ambitious campaign ever for Virginia Tech Athletics ($400 million), is a part of Boundless Impact.
- Virginia Tech is one of two institutions in the nation to have a Corps of Cadets embedded in a large civilian student body, and the corps boasts the highest commissioning rate—85 percent—of all the senior military and service academies in nation. Enrollment exceeds 1,200 cadets, with plans to grow to 1,400.
- Virginia Tech was ranked among the world's elite institutions in the 2020 QS World University Ratings by Subject.
- In its 2023 graduate school rankings, U.S. News & World Report ranked Virginia Tech's College of Engineering at No. 30 out of 200 schools nationwide—up one spot from last year. Three of the college's specialty engineering programs landed in the top 10 with industrial and systems engineering, civil engineering, and environmental and environmental health engineering program each coming in at No. 7.
- Virginia Tech ranked in the 250-300 range in the 2022 Times Higher Education World University Rankings. Among U.S. public land-grant universities, it is tied for 16th.
- The 2022 U.S. News & World Report rankings listed Virginia Tech's College of Engineering at No. 9 among public institutions and No. 13 overall.
- U.S. News' rankings of undergraduate programs placed Virginia Tech at 30th overall among public universities and 75th among all national universities. Forbes ranked the university 26th among the top 30 public institutions in the nation.
- U.S. News & World Report's ranking of the Best Online Programs in 2021 rated Virginia Tech's online master's degree in information technology the nation's fourth best. The online graduate engineering program moved up six places to No. 10.
- In 2019, Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine again ranked Virginia Tech among the best values in public education (20th).
- The National Science Foundation ranked Virginia Tech 48th in research expenditures for FY19.
- In 2021, Princeton Review ranked Virginia Tech No. 1 for Best Counseling Services, No. 7 for Their Students Love These Colleges, No. 8 for Best Campus Food, and No. 15 for Town-Gown Relations are Great.
- In Princeton Review rankings for 2021, the university was No. 25 for undergraduate entrepreneurship programs.
- Virginia Tech's undergraduate architecture school was ranked No. 6 and its graduate architecture program No. 13 by DesignIntelligence in 2019-20.
- USA Today has ranked Virginia Tech as among the best places in the nation to study natural resources and conservation for years.

TIM SANDS UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

 @VTSandsman

Timothy D. Sands is the 16th president of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University and a professor in the College of Engineering. Since joining Virginia Tech in 2014, he has worked collaboratively with the provost and university leadership to set the university on track to become a leading modern, global, land-grant institution. Virginia Tech's strategic plan and vision, The Virginia Tech Difference: Advancing Beyond Boundaries, aligns the university with the emerging needs and opportunities of a rapidly changing world in the context of the evolving higher education landscape.

Under President Sands' leadership, undergraduate enrollment has been increased by 5,000 to achieve the benefits of scale while preserving the strong sense of community rooted in our motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve). Student interest in Virginia Tech has grown continuously, as reflected in a doubling of applications from first-time prospective students. Student success has been a priority, with four-year graduation rates increasing from 61 to 70 percent.

President Sands initiated InclusiveVT in 2015, leading an effort that has increased the enrollment of underrepresented minority (URM) students by 88 percent while closing the 4-year graduation rate gap from 10 percentage points to 1 percentage point. URM and underserved students (Pell-eligible, first-generation, and veterans) now make up nearly 40 percent of the entering class, including transfers.

Virginia Tech remains a leader in research and innovation with over $500M in annual expenditures, but with a renewed focus on moving into the upper tier of land-grant research universities in terms of impact and extramural research expenditures. Expansion of the health sciences in the Fralin Biomedical Research Institute at the Virginia Tech Carilion Health Sciences and Technology campus in Roanoke, the Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine, and a partnership with Children's National Hospital's Research and Innovation Campus in Washington D.C. are central to enhancing Virginia Tech's research and innovation profile and its impact on the communities we serve.

The university's residential campus in Blacksburg is being transformed with an emphasis on living-learning experiences, transdisciplinary collaboration, and sustainability. Recent developments include a Creativity and Innovation District, the launch of a Global Business and Analytics Complex, and expanded facilities for the Virginia Tech Corps of Cadets. A new Multi-modal Transit Facility and upgraded environmental infrastructure are part of the university's Climate Action Commitment to reduce transportation greenhouse gasses by 40 percent and achieve carbon neutrality by 2030.

Virginia Tech's 1-million-square-foot Innovation Campus in the greater Washington D.C. area is the centerpiece of a technology education strategy that helped bring Amazon's east coast headquarters to Arlington, VA. The campus is developing a new and diverse generation of technology talent and supporting the commonwealth's economic vitality with groundbreaking programs in computer science, software engineering, machine learning, and artificial intelligence. Virginia Tech is also leading the Commonwealth Cyber Initiative to establish a "global center of excellence at the intersection of security, autonomous systems, and data."

President Sands' vision is supported by a global community of alumni, friends, and partners. Virginia Tech's Advancement division continues to see record-breaking generosity and engagement, keeping the university on track to raise $1.5 billion and engage 100,000 Hokies as part of Boundless Impact: The Campaign for Virginia Tech.

President Sands' recent awards and honors include The Edward Bouchet Legacy Award, the National GEM Consortium's Academic Leadership Award, the Virginia Latino Higher Education Network's Leadership Impact Award, and the Roanoke-Blacksburg Technology Council's Regional Leadership Award

As part of his civic engagement and community leadership, President Sands chairs the Board of Directors of Jefferson Science Associates (JSA) and the Virginia Space Grant Consortium. He serves on the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Northern Virginia Technology Council (NVTC) and is a member of the Boards of the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC), the Business-Higher Education Forum (BHEF), the University Research Alliance (URA), and is an ex-officio member of the Board of the Northern Virginia Chamber of Commerce. He is also vice-chair of the Virginia Council of Presidents and a member of the Board of Visitors of the National Intelligence University.

Before coming to Virginia Tech, President Sands was executive vice president for academic affairs and provost of Purdue University in West Lafayette, Indiana, serving as acting president in 2012. Throughout his career, he has participated in and led research teams and academic programs that have been characterized by open collaboration across a wide array of disciplines. Before becoming provost, President Sands served as the Mary Jo and Robert L. Kirk Director of the Birck Nanotechnology Center in Purdue's Discovery Park. He was a professor of materials science and engineering at the University of California, Berkeley, and also directed research groups at Bell Communications Research (Bellcore) in Red Bank, New Jersey.

President Sands earned a bachelor's degree with highest honors in engineering physics and a master's degree and a doctorate in materials science from the University of California, Berkeley. He joined the Purdue faculty in 2002 as the Basil S. Turner Professor of Engineering in the schools of Materials Engineering and Electrical and Computer Engineering.

President Sands is joined at Virginia Tech by his wife, Dr. Laura Sands, a professor of gerontology in the Department of Human Development at Virginia Tech. All four of their children are proud members of the Virginia Tech community. Follow President Sands on Twitter and Instagram at @VTSandsman.

WHIT BABCOCK DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

@WhitBabcock

Virginia Tech Athletics started a new era when Whit Babcock was formally named Virginia Tech's director of athletics on Jan. 24, 2014. The Harrisonburg, Virginia native came back to the state following stints at Cincinnati, Missouri, West Virginia, Auburn and James Madison.

Babcock continues to make his mark on all facets of the athletics department, from academic and athletic accomplishment to fan engagement and facilities improvements, as well as fundraising and successful coaching hires.

During the 2021-22 academic year Babcock helped guide Tech Athletics through one of the most memorable stretches of collective achievement in school history. In the classroom, 17 of Tech's teams registered a collective 3.0 or better team GPA during both the fall and spring semesters in 2020-21. During the past year, Virginia Tech was the ONLY FBS school to qualify for a football bowl game and reach the NCAA tournament in baseball, men's soccer, men's basketball, softball, women's basketball, women's golf and women's soccer.

The Hokies boasted one of the most decorated collection of head coaches in the league, including four who earned ACC Coach of the Year honors: Dave Cianelli (Track and Field), Pete D'Amour (Softball), Tony Robie (Wrestling) and John Szefc (Baseball).

Both Tech's baseball and softball programs soared to No. 2 in the national rankings in 2022 as Szefc's unit reached the first NCAA Super Regional in program history. Meanwhile, D'Amour's softball squad hosted a Super Regional for the initial time in program history in 2022 after reaching the Super Regional last season for the first time since 2008.

On the court, Virginia Tech's men's and women's basketball teams both made the NCAA Tournament, accomplishing that feat for a second consecutive season. After earning ACC Coach of the Year accolades in 2020-21, men's basketball head coach Mike Young guided Tech to its first-ever ACC Tournament championship. Women's basketball head coach Kenny Brooks owns a 124-69 record during his six seasons in Blacksburg, including a school-record 13 ACC wins in 2021-22. Under his guidance, C Liz Kitley became the program's first-ever ACC Player of the Year this past season.

Under the leadership of Cianelli, Tech's men's indoor track squad won another ACC indoor title. It marked the 19th overall team ACC championship claimed by the Hokies. Two of his student-athletes also won individual indoor national championships in 2022: Lindsay Butler (800m) and Rachel Baxter (pole vault).

Virginia Tech's wrestling program racked up another Top 10 finish at the NCAA Championships as Mehki Lewis reached the national championship match for the second time in his career. Tech's women's golf head coach Carol Robertson guided the Hokies to their fourth straight NCAA regional, and Emily Maher became the program's first-ever All-American in 2022 after qualifying for the national championship as an individual. Meanwhile, the men's soccer program led by Mike Brizendine qualified for NCAA postseason competition for the sixth straight year in 2022, while Tech women's soccer advanced to the NCAA tournament for the eighth time with Chugger Adair at the helm. On the football field, the Hokies posted yet another Commonwealth Cup win against Virginia to earn a berth in the Pinstripe Bowl, setting the stage for Brent Pry to enter his initial season coaching the Hokies in 2022.

The future is also bright on several other fronts in Blacksburg under Babcock's guidance. In conjunction with Virginia Tech President Dr. Tim Sands and other campus officials, Tech Athletics launched the Reach For Excellence Campaign in April 2021. This $400 million fundraising campaign seeks to help propel Tech Athletics sports to the forefront of the Atlantic Coast Conference, prepare generations of student-athletes for success in life, and raise the university's profile nationwide. As of June 2022, the campaign had raised over $200 million.

Several major construction projects have been finalized under Babcock in recent years. Thanks to a $15.2 million gift, Tech's Student-Athlete Performance Center was completed and went online serving meals on a daily basis to student-athletes. This multiple-purpose space permits Tech's sports nutrition staff to provide a variety of menu options to athletes in all 22 sports. The venue will also be used for donor hospitality before football and basketball games, recruiting and a myriad of other functions.

In addition, a $4.5 million renovation and expansion of the football strength and conditioning center was completed. The project nearly doubled the functional workout space of the facility located in the Merryman Center to over 12,300 square feet. A custom-designed, 24-rack system by Sorinex serves as the centerpiece of the strength and performance area that features all-new equipment, weights and other high-performance training gear.

Thanks to a generous contribution from Tech graduate Mehul Sanghani, the reimagined and fully-equipped Sanghani Player Lounge debuted in January 2022. A $5 million lead gift from Tech alum Win Sheridan will also help kickstart a renovation of the football locker room, which will mark the final makeover project of Tech Football facilities used on a daily basis by student-athletes.

The student-athlete experience is always at the forefront of Babcock's mind and he played an integral role in securing 176 residence spaces for student-athletes with an interest in interdisciplinary creation and entrepreneurship in the Creativity and Innovation District Residence Hall, which opened in 2001.

This $105.5 million project on the Virginia Tech campus encompasses 200,000 square feet and features a total of 596 beds, as well as academic, research and collaboration space.

Denotes highest ranking achieved during season

Babcock (left) was joined by Virginia Tech President Tim Sands (right) at the press conference to announce the hiring of head coach Brent Pry in November 2021.

Tech's external operations unit was recognized for its creativity during a year filled with unprecedented challenges in 2020-21. Tech won Paciolan's Star of the Year for Innovative Revenue Generation Programs, while the Athletics marketing squad was one of six finalists for NACMA's Marketing Team of the Year. Meanwhile, Tech's Learfield/IMG Ticketing Solutions team won NACMA's Play of the Year for orchestrating a virtual sellout of Lane Stadium in 2020.

Among the many notable athletic accomplishments during the 2019-20 academic year, Tech's women's indoor track squad won its third ACC indoor title and its first since winning back-to-back titles in 2007-08. The Tech's men's cross country squad qualified for the NCAA Championships, led by Peter Seufer, who claimed the ACC Men's Cross Country title for the second consecutive season. He finished fourth at the NCAA Championships, the best-ever finish in the men's distance program's history. Chugger Adair's women's soccer squad made the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive season, while Tech's wrestling program ascended to No. 3 in the national rankings.

There were also an abundance of accolades for the Hokies in 2018-19. Robbie earned 2019 ACC Coach of the Year honors following a third straight top-10 NCAA Wrestling finish after posting back-to-back ACC titles. The men's track and field program won both indoor and outdoor ACC championships, while the softball squad earned the ACC Coastal title, a No. 1 seed in the ACC tournament and the program's first NCAA tournament berth since 2015 as D'Amour earned ACC Coach of the Year honors. The men's and women's soccer programs each advanced to the NCAA tournament, while the women's golf program and cross country also qualified for NCAA postseason competition. Mekhi Lewis won Tech's first individual NCAA title in wrestling at 165 pounds, while Amanda Hollandsworth became the first Tech women's golfer to advance to the championship round of the NCAA tournament and qualified for the U.S. Women's Open.

Babcock has received national recognition for his work at Virginia Tech. In June 2020, Stadium named him the No. 9 athletic director in the country. During the 2017-18 academic year, Babcock was named one of four FBS recipients of the Under Armour AD of the Year. The previous year, Babcock was one of five finalists for the AD of the Year honor handed out by SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily.

Babcock and his team spent several years laying the groundwork for the launch of the ACC Network in August 2019. Those preparations included the completion of control rooms, engineering and office space in the south end zone of Lane Stadium with plans for studio space on the west side of the stadium facing Beamer Way. In addition to approximately $10 million in infrastructure, the Hokies are also making significant investments in equipment and human resources to showcase Tech's athletic programs, the campus and its people in the best possible light.

In the spring of 2018, the athletics department concluded an $18 million renovation of English Field at Atlantic Union Bank Park—in large part because of a $3.5 million donation from Atlantic Union Bank secured by Babcock—and the conclusion of an $18 million project that resulted in the construction of a softball batting facility and the conversion of Rector Field House into a home for the Hokies' track and field programs. Major upgrades at the Burrows-Burleson Tennis Center have also been completed.

In December of 2016, Babcock implemented a "Drive for 25" campaign designed to increase membership in the Hokie Club to 25,000 members. He tabbed Hall of Fame football coach Frank Beamer to serve as the spokesperson for the campaign, which helps raise the financial resources to provide Virginia Tech student-athletes with the opportunities to continue their success in the classroom, in competition and in the community. The initiative has increased membership from 9,000 members to a figure approaching 26,000 members as of June 2022.

Babcock arrived in Blacksburg following two-and-a-half years as the director of athletics at the University of Cincinnati and five years at the University of Missouri, where he served as the executive associate director of athletics. His background in fundraising, marketing, promotions, ticket sales, licensing and multimedia partnerships were key attributes in support of his hiring. In his introductory press conference at Virginia Tech, Babcock cited three guiding principles for his vision for the athletics department's future: commitment to comprehensive excellence, centering the department's focus on the student-athlete experience and engaging the community.

Babcock served as a member of the NACDA Executive Committee for 2020-21 academic year and previously served as a member of the NCAA Football Oversight Committee. He is also an active mentor as part of a project established by National Coalition for Minority Football Coaches. This program pairs influential athletic directors with minority football coaches. Babcock is a past president of the National Association of Athletic Development Directors (NAADD). He served as the President/Chairman of the ACC Athletic Directors in 2019-20 and continues to serve as AD representative on ACCN Advisory Committee to ESPN.

A former student-athlete himself, Babcock lettered four seasons in baseball at James Madison University and served as team captain his senior year. He earned his bachelor's degree from JMU in 1992. In 1996, he received his master's in sports management from West Virginia University. He and his wife, Kelly, have three sons: Andrew, Brett and Eli.

VT SPORTS NETWORK FROM LEARFIELD

@BillRoth

BILL ROTH returns to the Hokies' broadcast booth in 2022 as the play-by-play announcer for Virginia Tech Football, a role he previously held for 27 seasons. The longtime Virginia Tech broadcaster makes his way back to Blacksburg to help usher in the next era of Tech football under the direction of head coach Brent Pry. In addition to returning to Lane Stadium and other venues, Roth will continue serving as a professor of practice in the School of Communication where he helped launch the rapidly growing Sports Media and Analytics program.

Also, Roth will remain a part of ESPN's college football broadcasting team calling games during Tech open dates, along with mid-week and postseason games. A familiar voice to Tech fans, Roth served as the "Voice of the Hokies" from 1988-2015 working with both football and men's basketball. Now, he will solely focus on football.

@MikeBurnopVT

MIKE BURNOP, Virginia Tech's Hall of Fame analyst, enters his 40th season in the Hokies' football booth. He was honored as the 2019 Virginia Sportscaster of the Year. In addition to his role as analyst, Burnop handles all post-game interviews from Tech's locker room. His versatility at the mic is nearly unparalleled in collegiate athletics as he also serves as the analyst for Tech men's basketball broadcasts. He is one of just a few announcers nationwide that provide analysis for both sports.

With Roth, Tech's radio duo teams up to bring fans Tech Talk Live!, a weekly in-season radio program that features in-depth analysis from both Head Football Coach Brent Pry and Head Basketball Coach Mike Young.

Longtime Virginia Tech broadcast partners Mike Burnop and Bill Roth will be reunited in the radio booth for the 2022 season.

Roth brings a great appreciation for the history and tradition of Virginia Tech from his first stint in Blacksburg. He was the voice of the football program's rise from independent, to the BIG EAST and then to the ACC, calling some of the Hokies' top moments in program history along the way.

In 2016, the 11-time Virginia Sportscaster of the Year helped found Sports Media and Analytics as a concentration within Virginia Tech's School of Communication. In December 2019, the program was elevated to a major. In addition to his play-by-play duties for Tech Football, Roth plans to host podcasts for Tech Athletics and will write a regular column for Inside Hokie Sports magazine.

Roth graduated from Syracuse's prestigious S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications in 1987. Upon graduation, Roth used his demo reel from the 1987 NCAA men's basketball national championship game between Syracuse and Indiana to help land his initial appointment with Virginia Tech in 1988. He was inducted into the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame in 2013.

Burnop is one of the most in-demand emcees in the commonwealth, hosting numerous Hokie Club and University events (and barbeques) throughout the year. He also serves as an analyst on the weekly HokiePod podcast.

Burnop, a star tight end for the Hokies in his playing days, held the Virginia Tech record for receptions in a season by a tight end with 46 from the end of his playing career until it was broken by Bucky Hodges in 2016 (48). Burnop also ranks second all-time (Hodges) for career yards receiving by a tight end. He was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 2000. In addition to his broadcasting duties, Burnop owns New River Office Supply, a business operating in Blacksburg, Pearisburg and Salem, VA. Burnop is a prominent member of the Blacksburg community, frequently lending his time, voice and talents to philanthropic causes throughout the area.

@zach_w_mackey

ZACH MACKEY enters his initial season as Virginia Tech's director of broadcasting. He will serve as sideline reporter for Hokies' football games and will call the play-by-play for Tech men's basketball games. Mackey arrives in Blacksburg after a three-year stint in Bozeman, Montana where he was the radio broadcaster for the Montana State football and men's basketball programs. While with the Bobcats, Mackey hosted a weekly podcast with guests from the Bobcats' athletic department and hosted coaches shows for both football and men's basketball on television and radio platforms. A University of Iowa graduate, Mackey has also been the voice of the Hawkeye baseball program since 2015. He has also had the opportunity to host pre and postgame shows for the Iowa football team and filled in calling games for the Hawkeyes' basketball programs. Mackey has also spent time broadcasting contests for the Big Ten Network. Mackey has earned several accolades, most recently collecting the National Sports Media Association Montana Sportscaster of the Year in 2022 and he previously was named to the STAA's Jim Nantz All-America program three consecutive years as an undergrad.

HOKIEVISION & ACC NETWORK

In March 2018, the Virginia Tech Board of Visitors approved plans for a $10 million investment in facilities, equipment and infrastructure on the Tech Athletics footprint of campus, as the Hokies readied for the anticipated launch of the ACC Network in 2019.

The development of two identical linear network control rooms, including audio and replay suites, as well as state-of-the-art engineering, shading and editing suites came to fruition in the spring of 2019 in the former Shott Media Center in the south end zone of Lane Stadium. These two control rooms have the ability to allow HokieVision—the athletics department's video staff—to produce simultaneously live Virginia Tech sporting events for the ESPN networks, including the new linear ACC Network set to launch in August 2019. In addition, the rooms can be used to produce ACC Network Extra digital broadcasts. The first linear television broadcast produced out of the south end zone was a Virginia Tech baseball game against Boston College on May 6, 2019.

A second location on the first floor of Lane Stadium's West Side that currently houses a memorabilia area will be transformed into studios, as well as another control room and audio suite. In addition to programming for the ACC Network, this location will be used for HokieVision, as well as potential future collaborative efforts with Virginia Tech academic departments.

HOKIE CLUB

Founded in 1949 as the Virginia Tech Athletic Fund with the expressed purpose of funding scholarships for student-athletes at Tech, today the Hokie Club serves as the official conduit between fans and Virginia Tech Athletics.

"I know firsthand from both my experience as a player and from coaching just how important scholarships are to young people here at Virginia Tech," Frank Beamer said, who earned a football scholarship to Tech long before embarking on his legendary coaching career. "Scholarships change lives, and that's why Cheryl and I have always been willing to give to help these student-athletes not just to play sports, but to be a part of such a special place and get a degree. Many of my former players wouldn't have received that opportunity otherwise."
